

MOTORING TO FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Belbock, accompanied by their daughter, Donna, and the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Belbock, left on Sunday morning on a motor trip to Florida. They plan on spending a week there before making the return journey.

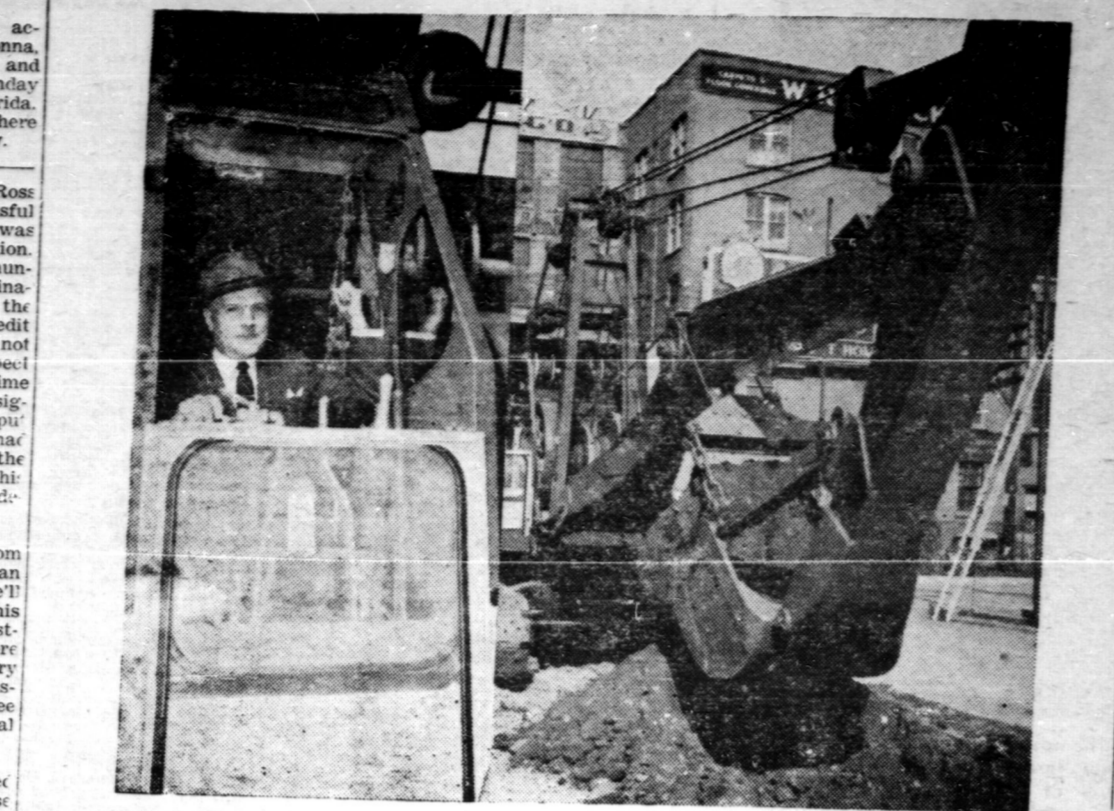

Every medium of communication in Canada has been giving space to the time these past two weeks to the visit of Her Gracious Majesty Queen Elizabeth. It is not too much to say she has been the feature of the thinking of ninety-nine per cent of Canadians during her visit to this continent. And, for one who's really happy that is the case, happily we can unite in a feeling of intense loyalty to the Crown. Some of the Monarchs of the past have done little to intensify this feeling but not in the case of Queen Elizabeth. Her very presence stirs inward emotions that reflect the best in mankind and it is fortunate indeed she engenders such pride among the people of the Commonwealth.

Malcolm Muggeridge, that controversial English editor, had his fingers crossed slightly by choosing to submit an article to the "Post" on Royalty at the time of the Queen's visit from his London newspaper but he humbly apologized on a New York TV interview. Actually what Mel's column might be true in certain respects but it could not be construed as the ultimate in rudeness to someone such as a story at the time he discovered it. If any of those hunters want any advice on deer hunting to hear of any of our best exciting experiences would be glad to help we envy the lucky ones who'll be trailing the woods in the weeks ahead.

Other hunters are getting primed for the autumn trek northward these days and we can expect some old stories of their exploits upon their return. We have a few pleasant memories of similar trips in the past and if there is anything more comfortable than sitting around a pot-bellied stove at night in a cabin after a day in the woods we haven't discovered it. If any of those hunters want any advice on deer hunting to hear of any of our best exciting experiences would be glad to help we envy the lucky ones who'll be trailing the woods in the weeks ahead.

NEW ADDITION—N. R. Crump, president of the Canadian Pacific Railways, pulls the switch of the steam shovels that turned the sod for the new $10,000,000 499-room addition to the Royal York Hotel in Toronto. Scheduled for completion in 1958, the 17-story addition will make the Royal York Hotel the largest in the Commonwealth and British Columbia being built in the world. In attendance at the ceremony were Hon. Leslie Frost, Premier of Ontario, Fred G. Gardiner, Chairman of the Board of Metropolitan Toronto, Mayor Nathan Phillips of Toronto and Hon. Bryan A. Caldwell, M.L.A., Minister of Travel and Publicity, Province of Ontario.

REFLECTIONS ON SPUTNIK

The age of the satellite has arrived. No one knows, at this stage, what this will mean to mankind but the comic book stories of space ships that were in the realm of fancy only a few weeks ago don't seem quite so improbably today.

The Russians, with Sputnik, their 184-pound satellite, have conquered what turned the sod for the new $10,000,000 499-room addition to the Royal York Hotel in Toronto. Scheduled for completion in 1958, the 17-story addition will make the Royal York Hotel the largest in the Commonwealth and British Columbia being built in the world.

One immediate result of the first earth satellite, however, is already evident. Radio and television communications have found a new subject for their jokers; the first satellite tops are on the assembly line and there should be a booming market for them this Christmas.

President Rex Clavola has stated that a code of ethics must be developed "before we find ourselves swamped with such problems as satellites, blinking satellites, commercials, blinking satellites, with messages readable from earth and billboard rental space on the moon."

Of the total pulp and paper output in Canada, 45 per cent comes from Quebec, 26 per cent from Ontario, 15 per cent from British Columbia, and 14 per cent from the other five pulp and paper producing provinces.

Now you have read this far, and you know what we have written has different names perhaps but with the same message. Cast an eye in the direction of Ottawa and you see just what good things "Political expediency" would do to us if we were to be "inspired" by the same old time as... and perhaps why it's ill wind that doesn't blow someone good.

RENTON

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McCall spent the week-end in Dundas, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pollard and family.

A large number of persons from this district attended the International Plovering match the past week. Mrs. H. McClain entertained the Renton W.L. at her home on Wednesday afternoon.

A shower was held in Wiggins Hall on Saturday night in honor of Mr. A. Palanio and Miss Jackson who will be married on Nov. 9th.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Mitchell were supper guests on Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Woolley.

Mr. Charlie Duncan of Walsh spent Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Steinkley in confined to the Norfolk General Hospital at time of writing.

1957-1958 Fur Trapping Dates in Ontario

Open seasons for trapping fur-bearing animals in Ontario during 1957-1958 have been announced. Beaver may be trapped by quota only from Oct. 15 to May 21, 1958 in that part of Ontario lying north of the northernmost line of the C.N.R.

Another important factor will be reduced taxation. Ottawa seems to be yielding at long last to the demand of the people that waste be stopped. Millions will be saved from our tax bills and left in the hands of the people to be invested in industry, agriculture, housing and the government wanted to see the National Film Board in making the film "How to Build an Igloo" would have built many low-cost homes.

Over 90 per cent of the Canadian forests are owned by the public. Canada's forests cover an area more than twice that of all her land her agriculture.

Two embelms have gained national recognition in Canada—the beaver and the maple leaf. The beaver has been a significant feature of Canada's history and development from earliest times; the pursuit of its skin was largely responsible for first opening up the country.

TIME TO INVEST

By Ambrose Hills. I've a friend who has made as much money investing his money in common stocks as most professional choosing stocks as most professional.

"Listen," said he, "why don't you smarten up? The time to invest in the exchange all week, and I'll just think a year or so now."

Thereupon he delivered me a long lecture on the fallacy of waiting for the right time to invest in the exchange all week, and I'll just think a year or so now."

All my life I've been a timid soul with money. I like to see in a book where I can get it when I want it. Just the same, my friend's point of view is probably right.

MUSICAL STIMULANT

Music in the garden may be more than a soothing accompaniment for a strolling party—it might actually stimulate the growth of flowers and vegetables.

In charge of the experiments is the University of Manitoba, said the professor of botany, the university's department of botany, assisted by Stellaiah Ponniah, the university's musicologist.

Chester Duncan, music expert at the University of Manitoba, sagely intoned that the experiments in the nature of the land—a combination of permafrost and silt—and the river floods seriously affected the construction of the field, sewers and water mains, created a health hazard, and hampered the settlement's expansion.

Keich's Korner. I sometimes wonder why a good purpose is served by all the advice articles consistently hanging away in the "Gun Safety" column.

WHY WAS AKLAVIK MOVED

Partial thawing and flooding made the site unsuitable for the permanent construction required for this important northern settlement on the Mackenzie River Delta.

In 1954 the Federal government by land and 70 miles by water to the west. The settlement is the administrative centre for the western Arctic, and the centre of the reindeer, the nature of the land—a combination of permafrost and silt—and the river floods seriously affected the construction of the field, sewers and water mains, created a health hazard, and hampered the settlement's expansion.

Who Published the First Newspaper in the Northwest Territories?

Patrick Gammis Laurie travelled by ox train and in 1878 founded the Saskatchewan Herald at Battleford, then capital of the Northwest Territories. For two years, his was the only newspaper in the territories. His accurate and faithful reporting while Battleford was being laid during the field uprising makes the Herald a valuable historical source.
