NEW GOVERNMENT CONVERSION LOAN

Local residents who hold Victory Bonds worth $50 or more have an opportunity now to exchange their holdings for units of the new Canada Conversion Loan of 1958 announced Monday in Parliament. It is estimated that more than 2,000,000 Canadians hold one or more of the bonds the Government now offers to convert.

Copies of the prospectus and further information about the Conversion Loan may be secured at local banks or from any investment dealer, trust or loan company.

Described as the largest financing undertaking in Canadian history, the Canada Conversion Loan was launched on Monday, with an announcement in Parliament by Finance Minister Donald Fleming and a combined radio-TV appearance by Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Mr. Fleming on all Canadian radio and TV stations Monday evening.

Speaking directly to the people of Canada, Mr. Diefenbaker and Mr. Fleming stressed the importance of the loan in re-organizing the government debt as a contribution to financial stability in the country and an impetus to further economic expansion.

Under the terms of the Canada Conversion Loan, anyone holding

GOOD PROGRAM

A real king-sized junior tennis program is shaping up in Atikokan this year. It's a new sport for Atikokan and preliminary indications point to a tremendous amount of interest in the game on the part of the boys and girls in the community.

Atikokan (Ont.) Progress.

Victory Bonds worth $50 or more may exchange them. In return, they will receive bonds bearing a higher rate of interest, and also an immediate cash settlement. This cash adjustment payment is expected to add to investor interest in new bonds and constitutes a premium for a lengthening of term.

Any Victory Bondholder of which bear interest at 3% may be exchanged for new 4½% 25 year bonds. Three shorter maturities are available, at lower interest rates.

"We have to look beyond the needs of this fiscal year," said Mr. Fleming, "and we must ensure that the government debt is kept under control. During the next few years, we will mature in quick succession the whole of the remaining five wartime Victory Loans, totalling over $60,000,000. This constitutes more than 60% of our outstanding public debt, excluding the special categories of Canada Savings Bonds and Treasury Bills." The conversion program is designed to refund these issues in an orderly way.

IN THE ORBIT OF OUR EYE!

HERE'S AN INVITATION TO "LIVE BETTER"

Well folks, if you'll bear with me, I'll ramble along and talk of the past and mention, among other things, the value of a water system.

When I was stationed at Jarvis in 1940, they didn't have taps and toilets in the barracks. They were just in the process of installing same. A pump station was being built and a sewage plant in the making. I stayed on that station for a few years, even became Scoutmaster of the Jarvis Boy Scout Troop in the meantime. (A small bunch of boys too!) and for progress, industry and the like! It's a step that Jarvis has got to take, and one that will pay many, many returns through the years.

Yesterday, leaving the office of the Jarvis Record, I was approached by a reader who (ah, I love readers like him) said "Charlie, you aren't much on grammar, but I sure like to read your column." After I got through admiring this sensible chap, I asked if there was any special topic upon which he would like my views or that could be used in a column. (modesty is not my best virtue.)

"Yes," came the reply. "Tell Jarvis about the value of a water and sewerage system! We need it! For ourselves—our families—for the old folk—and for progress, industry and the like! It's a step that Jarvis has got to take, and one that will pay many, many returns through the years."

PRIME MINISTER OF GHANA VISITS ST. LAWRENCE

A tour of the St. Lawrence Power Project has been included in the itinerary for the Canadian visit of the Prime Minister of Ghana, Dr. Kwame Nkrumah.

Dr. Nkrumah, leader of one of the youngest member nations of the British Commonwealth, is scheduled to arrive in Montreal from Accra next Saturday. He plans to spend four days in Canada at the invitation of Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

The visit to the St. Lawrence Power Project is scheduled for next Sunday. Dr. Nkrumah and his party will be guests of Ontario Hydro, and will be taken on a tour of the impressive project by W. Ross Strick, first vice-chairman of the Commission.

The tour will feature inspection of the powerhouse at the Robert H. Saunders-St. Lawrence Generating Station, and the rehabilitation area extending to Iroquois.

The party accompanying Dr. Nkrumah will include two members of his cabinet: Mr. Kofi Botso, Minister of Trade and Industries, and Mr. Kofi Baako, Minister of Information and Broadcasting.

After the tour of the project is over, the Ghanaian group will move on to Ottawa. They are scheduled to leave there for Washington on Wednesday, July 23.

CANADA'S 10,000 NUDISTS "SHOCKED" BY SEMI-NUDE SWIMSUITS

Canada's 10,000 nudists consider semi-nude women in bikini bathing suits "a downright invitation to immorality," Mrs. Peggy Parkes, public relations director for the Eastern Division of the Canadian Sunbathing Association, revealed to-day in the current Liberty Magazine.

She said nudists also deplored "some juke-box songs, and sexy pictures of undressed females over suggestive captions."

The 40 year-old Hamilton, Ont., housewife said her whole family was more "clean-minded," because they barred themselves in the nude at the Niagara Gymnosophical Society at Welland, Ont.

"Nudism keeps my husband away from stag parties, my son wholesome in his sex attitude, our whole family united," she said.

Canada's Adams and Eves congregations, bearing such titles as the Sunny Chinkos in Calgary; Manitoba Outdoor Club; Winnipeg Sol Santa; Club Victoria B.C.; and the Maritans Bristol, N.B.

Mrs. Parkes thinks nudists live closer to God's commandment, "Love Thy Neighbour," than any other social group. She quotes a Catholic priest, who said the high moral standards of nudists are "a perfect supplement to the Church's teachings."

"To those who think it impossible to be clean-minded when looking at a member of the opposite sex," Mrs. Parkes suggests, "compare a nude painting of the Greek or Renaissance periods with the pictures of scantily clad females in the pulp magazines. While Greek art leaves you unmoved, the same cannot be said of semi-nude in bikini bathing suits. These days, we associate the body with sex and provocation. The Greeks, on the other hand, glorified the human figure as a perfect work of art. So do we nudists."

ANGELICAN CHURCH NOTES

Quite a number of men turned out to the first work party on Tuesday evening in St. Paul's. The furniture was piled and covered and about one quarter of the old plaster removed. Work will continue each evening and Thursday afternoon until it is completed.

All services will be held in the old Church building, now the Parish Hall, until further notice.

SPELLING BEE

If you are a first-class orthographer (speller to the uninitiated) and if you are going to be at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto on August 9th, you have a chance to win one of the three cash prizes in the Spelling Bee Competition. The Competition is open to adults only. Entry forms should be in by August 9th. The preliminary competitions are held at 11:00 a.m. and the finals at 8:30 p.m. in the Family Theatre of the Queen Elizabeth Building. Exhibition visitors are welcome to watch the Competition as well as the many other special cooking features presented in the Family Theatre.

THE BIBLE TODAY

The world-wide Bible Reading program of the Bible Society has followed an upward curve for the past four years. One reason for this is undoubtedly the increased reproduction of the reading schedule in the religious and secular press.

Last year, Scripture appeared in 18 new languages for the first time. Scriptures are now being circulated in 1127 languages and dialects. One daily newspaper in India reproduces several chapters of Scripture daily and is read by multitudes of people.

Bible Day in Brazil has become a significant event. In Sao Paulo last December, in a Bible Day Mass meeting, thirty thousand people took part of the eight-line through fare passing through the city.

Suggested readings for next week: Sunday, Psalms 40:1-17; Monday, Acts 17:1-15; Tuesday, Acts 17:16-34; Wednesday, Acts 26:1-32; Thursday, Acts 27:1-44; Friday, Acts 28:1-31; Saturday, Psalms 43:1-5.

Prizes of $50.00, $35.00 and $25.00 are waiting for the three top orthographers and you may be one of them. For entry forms and information write to Mrs. Eliza Jenkins, Manager of Women's Activities.

HOW TO MEET PRINCESS MARGARET

To those Canadians who will be meeting Princess Margaret during her trip to Canada, an article in the August issue of Chatelaine directs the following rules on protocol:

Don't crush her hand in a too-hearty handshake. Remember, she must shake more hands in a day than most people shake in a year. Be gentle and wear gloves.

Don't ask for the royal autograph. Such requests are rebuffed as are flagrantly personal questions.

Don't offer a helping hand. Such a gesture is considered to be improperly intimate. So is lighting the Princess's cigarette.

Do wear the latest fashions, if you like. The clothes-conscious Princess likes them and wears them often.

Do a slight knee-bend, when you're introduced to the Princess, but not a full, formal curtsy. That gesture is now considered passé. You may merely shake hands, if you like.

Do be yourself, friendly and unaffected. If you meet the Princess at work, there's practically no protocol. You needn't dress up. If she stops to chat, talk interestingly about your work.
