It's a long way to nineteen sixty
It's a long way to go.
But the drivers who will make it
Are the ones we want to know.
They'll be careful, they'll be cautious
Safety-conscious all the time.
And they'll make it to nineteen sixty
By taking care in fifty-nine.

How different can things get? We've had an experience that convinces us one can never be sure of anything. For years and years we had come to accept that come Christmas we would come neckties. Now we will admit that over the years we have had some snide things to say about the neckties we have received at Christmas but these remarks, notwithstanding, didn't alter the fact that we actually appreciated the neckties. For one thing it eliminated the necessity of ever buying a tie and that can run into a neat figure taken over a period of time.

We've gone through our Christmas gifts several times just to make sure, and believe it or not, we didn't get one necktie for Christmas 1958. Now if there are any others of the male gender who have had a like experience we'd like to hear from them. We figure this is a phenomena that is not likely ever to happen again. As a matter of fact, we hope it doesn't. For despite the fact we've been the recipient of some atrocious creations in neckwear over the years we have worn them with fortitude and actually have formed certain attachments for the looser types. But they do wear out and this year it looks as though we'll be buying our own.

We'd be less than grateful if we didn't acknowledge many, many beautiful Christmas cards from our friends far and near. As usual we overlooked several but in most cases it was because we couldn't locate the proper street addresses for those who reside in the larger cities. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. Murray Laidlaw in Vancouver; Gordon and Harry Pallas who reside anywhere from the Rockies to St. Johns; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brennan, Windsor. This is just to name two or three whose addresses we have some where but didn't locate them in time.

We liked particularly our card from John Dieffenbaker. Bruce Stadder and Sam Morris both agree it is a touching creation.

Readership of this column is extending. We were told this week we have a reader out on the west coast—in the U.S. no less. And just yesterday we were told of a lady in Hamilton who reads this column religiously. Can you imagine that? We can't. Actually there is nothing in this column worth reading as we can get dozens and dozens to testify. We just write this column week by week by force of habit. It affects us something like smoking and taking a wee cup of cheer at the New Year season. There are two habits we find we can't break and we guess writing this column will have to be regarded as just another of our vices.

Speaking of the New Year we would like to admonish some of our friends who demonstrate a weak spirit in welcoming in the New Year. Just remember the New Year has 365 days and it is not necessary to celebrate them all at once. A happy and prosperous New Year to every one.

RECORD NUMBER OF CANDIDATES IN JARVIS VOTE

No one can recall a heavier slate of candidates for an election in Jarvis than is evident this year. A total of nine candidates are running for Council seats with four to be elected. Just two will contest for the Reeve-ship. The Reseveehip candidates are both members of the 1958 Council. Four of the aspiring candidates for Council have had previous council experience while the remaining five are making their first bid for office. One thing that is almost certain to result with so many candidates in the running is a record vote. While there may be no contentious issues it is likely the candidates will see that most eligible voters get to the polling booths on election day. The polls open at 10:00 A.M. and close at 6 P.M. The Polls will be located in the I.O.O.F. Hall on Talbot Street.
