W.I. Groups Hold Summary Day

Summary Day for "Sew to Save Dollars and Make Sense" was held at the Rural Youth Centre, Kohler, on February 12th. Fifteen W.I. groups completed the project and exhibited the articles made. Miss Carolyn Keenan was in charge of the arrangements while Mrs. Cecil Clark acted as Chairman for the afternoon.

Miss Dora Burke, Clothing Specialist, commented very favorably on the aprons, oven mitts, pot holders, and mixer covers and showed the variety of your choice and the careful planning and art displayed were very attractive. All articles made were trimmed with homemade bias binding.

Club leaders reviewed the highlights of the project and stressed the practicability of the project.

Several members of each group made an enjoyable and interesting presentation and this was very well received by the members of Sims Locks group.

Entertainment was provided by a duet from the Chalmers W.I. of Smith, and a solo by Mrs. Harold Keenan, and a solo by Mrs. Harold Keenan. A poem was prepared and read by Mrs. H. Martindale of Mount Hope W.I. on the happenings in their group.

It was decided that a similar project be undertaken the next year, and "The Third Meal" was chosen as the preferred course.

Marine Equipment On Display At Jarvis Motors

Boating enthusiasts in the Jarvis area will see the latest in marine equipment when Bob Scullin stages an exhibition of 1958 water craft and outboard motors, opening this Friday.

Called the "All-Family Boat Show" and scheduled to take place in every boating centre in Canada between February 28th and March 8th, this presentation is designed to bring the boating public up-to-date on the tremendous strides made in marine design and engineering during the past year. The 1958 boats, motors and equipment displayed at the All-Family Boat Show will represent the most impressive array of marine equipment ever displayed in this community.

The automotive influence is apparent in boat and motor styling alike being displayed with new emphasis placed on race-like appearance as well as performance. Johnson has even adopted the high-way developed "air stream" design for their big new 50 horsepower smaller outboard motor models.

Biggest engineering triumph of the year is the development of a new outboard motor manufacturer in noise abatement. Johnson Motors has developed a silencing method which actually reduces the noise level of their motors to no more than is found in the family automobile—good news for cottagers, too!

CUBS AND SCOUTS

With the Cubs finishing off their meeting and leaving the Scout Hall, the Scouts arrived to start their meeting. I don't know if it is spring in the air or if the boys just have an extra bit of steam to let off, but a person didn't have to look around to know that the Cub Scouts were in a hurry to get started.

After the horseshoe and inspection a brief clean-up period was held and then a quick game, after which the hall you are going to have to work hard next month to win it again as the other patrols have their minds set on it.

The next regular meeting will be on Monday, March 3rd. Meeting to start at 8 p.m. sharp. Be prepared. Don't forget your registration for this meeting.

Anglican Church Notes

We had an interesting time in our discussion group at St. Paul's on Sunday evening. Come next Sunday, and on Wednesday at Christ Church.

Remember the Social Club meeting on Monday, March 2nd.

Jarvis A.P.A. meets on Friday (28th) at 8 p.m.

Interesting Letter From Our B.C. Correspondent

By Clyde Corrigan

British Columbia Buildings sprang over an ever-increasing acreage, they are huge and handsome, and plan to expand the nation from north to south. This year there has been a building boom in British Columbia. The "B.C. Buildings" are and are immensely "justly proud of them. From the Victoria Hotel to the new homes (veridig in copper) but are thankful we can't hear what goes on inside.

For the Legislature is in session, usually just droning on with occasional exchanges. This year there have been some interesting shenanigans to divert the routine, such as a cow milked on the front steps; angry dairymen trying to storm the sacrosanct chamber itself; a Social Credit demanding the resignation of the attorney-general and later crossing the floor as the Premier's ally; a few years ago, another Soared criticising his own Minister of Agriculture, and finally, a former Minister of Justice, who was acting in the House while charges of accepting bribes against him are being heard in a Vancouver police court. It's all rather peculiar and a bit confusing.

But if the Social Credit party here seems to be coming apart, it seems to me with some of the sawdust showing, it still has a long way to go before disintegrating completely. For with 37 members it still has a majority of 25 over the combined opposition of nine C.C.F., two Liberals, one Labor and an Independent Social Credit member who crossed the floor. Furthermore there is no election in sight for two years.

The House meets in a strikingly ornate building which was built by the Chamber. A frieze-perhaps we should spell in "freeze" of half-naked stone ladies framing the door and windows seems significant, whether as a tribute to Victoria's balmy climate or a suggestion of the semi-nudity to which we'll all be reduced if taxes and prices rise much higher or a little of both. Anyway they provide quite a contrast to the best "hub and tucker" down below.

Another contrast is that between the dignified ceremony of the House opening—the mace-bearing sergeant-at-arms heading a procession of the Speaker, his officers and members of the robes officers of the House—and what appears to us to be a lack of decorum in subsequent proceedings. In our school days no teacher would have tolerated such carryings-on in a classroom. In the House, however, constant passing of notes via the unformed page boys, leaving the Chamber, the aisles, the interruptions and the comments which some of the legislative orators seem to invite and others expect.

Suspended on a shelf on the wall halfway 'twixt the floor and Speaker are the usual display of educational paper. These are the scribbles, where the Party is located will be left to your imaginations.

Farmer's Week Planned March 3rd to March 7th

We hope every lady will avail themselves to be present. Don't forget to bring a friend. Everybody welcome!

Charlton Unanimous Choice Progressive Conservatives

John L. Charlton, M.P. for the riding of Brant-Haldimand since 1953, and a member of the House of Commons since 1945, was the unanimous choice of the Progressive Conservative nominating convention in Caledonia last Friday night to again contest the riding. Mr. Charlton's name was the only one brought forward by the more than four hundred delegates assembled in the auditorium of the Caledonia High School.

He was nominated by William Foot, Reeve of the Town of Paris and Warden of the County of Brant and David Featherstone, Reeve of the Town of Dunnville and Warden of the County of Haldimand.

Mr. Foot reviewed the outstanding career of Mr. Charlton since becoming a member of the House of Commons in 1945 and made special reference to his appointment as Parliamentary assistant to the Minister of Agriculture last year. Mr. Charlton stated that since 1953 the people of the Haldimand had learned to admire and respect John Charlton, and to appreciate his qualifications as a representative of the people in the Parliament of Canada.

Mr. Charlton expressed his appreciation for the confidence placed in him to again represent the people in the forthcoming election. Much has been accomplished during the past seven months of Government under the leadership of John Diefenbaker and given a majority mandate under the leadership of Mr. Charlton. He promised that he would continue to support the Bill which had taken the principle of a national building fund out of the House and to support the Bill which had taken the leadership of John Diefenbaker and given a majority mandate under the leadership of Mr. Charlton. He promised that he would continue to support the Bill which had taken the principle of a national building fund out of the House and to support the Bill which had taken the leadership of John Diefenbaker and given a majority mandate under the leadership of Mr. Charlton.

SNOW DISAPPEARING FAST

With the last few days of extremely mild weather, the heavy snow which has been with us for a month is disappearing fast. The roads in general in the rural districts are again open. Flooding is taking place in some of the low lying districts, but is not as bad as looked for. Under up, it is only 23 days till spring.
