To save his life...

A boy's life hung in the balance-four-year-old Ron Tisdale of Montreal. Ron had swallowed a quantity of sleeping pills. Now he was in a coma. His breathing had stopped.

At St. Justine's Hospital, Ron was put into a resuscitator. His stomach was pumped out. He was given every antipoison available. Still alive, he remained in a deep coma. It was feared that at any moment his life might flicker out.

At the Hospital, the doctor remembered reading about a powerful new anti-poison—Megimide. But where could it be obtained? Sister Catherine of St. Justine's, after trying several local calls, finally telephoned the Poison Control Centre of New York City. Did they have any? Yes—one half ounce,

At that very moment, an Eastern Air Lines plane was ready for its 11:45 takeoff for Montreal from New York.

Another phone call, and considerate airline officials agreed to hold it; its passengers voted unanimously to wait. A car raced to the field, and a Health Department worker handed the precious vial to the stewardess. In a short while, a waiting car rushed the Megimide to St. Justine's and little Ron Tisdale was soon out of danger.

The world-renowned New York Times chose to tell in detail on its editorial pages this dramatic story. For what a story of human helpfulness this is—of people using telephones, airplanes and automobiles—placing before all else their day.

When borrowing is sound business practice, it is a simple, straightforward process to arrange a loan from a chartered bank. Every day, in every part of Canada, the chartered banks are lending money to farmers, fishermen, producers, manufacturers, processors and other commercial customers, large and small...to meet pay-rolls, buy raw materials, market goods and meet a multitude of financial needs. A bank manager is constantly on the lookout for opportunities to make such loans -that's his job. Bank loans are an essential part of the process that provides the goods and services that make life better for all

Yes, I agree it's time we did do some serious thinking on our Education! It's time we all did a lot of thinking on a lot of things! But, the answer does not lie in "keeping up with Ivan Ivanovitches!" It lies in a better conception of what Education is . . . what Education means to our family. Perhaps the fault lies in the home . . perhaps it lies directly at the door of the solies directly at the door of the socalled "Educationist!" Perhaps we all don't know what we want! But one thing is certain.

So, let's not be pushed into a panic because our overcrowded schools and overworked teachers are not turning out scientific geniuses. They just don't have the facilities to do so. Nor was the present sys tem of schools set up so to do!

NATIONAL WATER SAFETY WEEK JUNE 15 to 21

Yesterday's mail produced a let-ter from the Canadian Red Cross Society. The letter requested this newspaper's co-operation for the pro-motion of National Water Safety Week, June 16 to 21. Water Safety Week is a timely campaign. Already this year there have been drowning and boating accidents in our nation. It is safe to assume there will be more unless people are informed about the urgency for more water safety protect tion.

This newspaper is pleased to support Red Cross Water Safety Week and we sincerely hope that our effort will make the people of this community stop and think. A warn-ing now may mean the saving of the life of one of our neighbours!
