DOOR PRIZE — REFRESHMENTS

This week we want to pay tribute to a pair of keen hunters. They are Bruce Meehan and Allan Lumdy. Bruce and Allan returned home last week and brought the evidence of success with them. They had a moose and a deer. They, of course, promptly came to the eagle eye editor to show their trophies and to prove to the old eagle eye that his training in the art of hunting in years gone by had not been in vain.

For years we have advocated the instant kill when it comes to deer hunting. We can't in fact stand to see an animal wounded and suffering. Consequently whenever we shot a deer we were careful at all times to place our shot so that the animal never knew what hit him or her. Follows like Dave McBride, for instance, bang, bang, bang away and are completely indifferent where their bullets may hit the poor beastie operating on the theory of odds that surely one will hit it. That type of shooting is not for us and we're glad that Bruce Meehan has paid attention to our instruction.

Bruce, however, operates under a handicap. He has that affliction known as shut-eye. Shut-eye is a peculiar phenomenon whereby the afflicted cannot shut one eye at a time. This naturally makes it difficult to aim a rifle accurately. This is a very frustrating condition for the hunter suffering from this malady because he sometimes makes the left eye attempt to shut the left eye to aim with the right, but, naturally, both eyes close and the target is lost entirely. In a desperate effort to overcome this handicap we pay tribute to Bruce. He conceived the idea of taking Allan with him, whenever he went out in the bush, with an empty tomato can in his hand. The idea being that if Bruce sighted a deer Allan's job was to immediately rush in and place the empty tomato can against Bruce's left eye while he sighted with the right.

We have to report that the system works perfectly. We have no reason to dispute it in any way. In fact, Bruce brought his deer home to show us how he had neatly severed the jugular vein with one shot, a system which we said before, we have always employed when hunting in the northwoods. However, we think Allan deserves some credit for this achievement. Can you imagine a shut-eye victim getting anywhere near deer shooting without someone to handle the tomato can?

BLOOD DONORS CLINIC IN PORT DOVER ON FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21

The Port Dover and Woodhouse Red Cross Society Branch will hold a Blood Donors Clinic in St. Paul's Anglican Church Parish Hall, Port Dover, on Friday, November 21st. 100% cooperation is asked by Mrs. J. Henry Minter, general convener of the Clinic, particularly in view of the additional demands that will come for blood plasma now that the Red Cross has extended this service to every hospital in Ontario. Every donor is needed. It is also pointed out that there is no need for special diet prior to the Clinic; the operation is absolutely painless and after a few minutes' rest during which refreshments are served, you are ready to go home — to the show etc. It should not require more than thirty minutes of your time.

OBSERVE FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Kenry of Nanticoke, who were married 40 years ago in Glasgow, Scotland, were most pleasantly surprised on Saturday evening when about forty of their friends and members of their family gathered to wish them "Many happy returns". The evening was spent in dancing and reminiscing about a family dinner at noon on Sunday a family dinner at noon had been arranged by their children and old friends dropped in during the afternoon.

ENCAMPMENT HOLD RALLY IN L.O.O.F. HALL

The meeting opened at 8.30 P.M. on November 15th with Chas. Messer, D.D.G.P. presiding. The Golden Rule Degree was exemplified by Simcoe Encampment No. 63 under the Captainship of Chas. Gamble. Grand Encampment officers in attendance were: Walter Lee, Grand Patriarch of Lakeside Encampment No. 29, Welland; Gordon Whitton, Grand Marshall of Union Encampment No. 1, St. Catharines and Wm. Adams, Grand Sentinel of Simcoe Encampment No. 63, Simcoe. Inspiring addresses were given by the Grand Patriarch and other officers of the Grand Encampment. Visitors were present from Gravenhurst, Welland, St. Catharines, Hamilton, Bradford and Simcoe. To conclude the evening a bountiful lunch was served by the members of Ridgely Encampment.

do open before Christmas

Some people have a flair for giving. They have a talent and taste for choosing the most exciting Christmas presents. They give the good things that make living more pleasurable. Many of these people will give modern electric appliances this Christmas—and they'll insist on having them ready for use on Christmas day, because they know these appliances will make Christmas (and every day for that matter) a new and exciting experience. So, this year, do a little hinting. Just say you'd like something wonderful for the household—something the whole family can enjoy. And don't be surprised if you get a superb, modern automatic electric appliance to help you "live better electrically"—the safe, clean, modern way.

ELECTRICITY DOES SO MUCH... COSTS SO LITTLE

It takes people like Jack MacLennan... to give you good telephone service. Your Bell Telephone installation man — whatever his name may be — is a lot like Jack MacLennan. On the job, his skillful work reflects his careful training. But more than that, we like to think that a friendly smile and unflinching courtesy lend a pleasant touch to his brief visit. We try to encourage this friendly spirit all through the business. You'll see it when you visit through the Business Office. You'll hear it in the operator's "voice with a smile". This helpful, friendly spirit is one of the many ways in which we try to give you good telephone service.
