

Union Power This Week - -

Union power is a matter of growing concern to the majority of Canadians. This is clear from the findings of a recent Canadian Gallup Poll, which show that 63 per cent of the people in this country think that the big unions are too powerful for their own good and the good of the public. Significant in the Poll's finding that 50 per cent of union members themselves in Canada feel that big unions are becoming too powerful. Poll shows, too, that only 13 per cent of Canadians feel big unions are not too powerful, while only 29 per cent of union members feel that excessive union power is not a serious problem.

Among the unions named by respondents in the Poll as being too powerful are the Teamsters, the United Steelworkers of America, the railway unions and the United Auto Workers. A percentage of those polled expressed the belief that labor congresses, such as the Canadian Labor Congress and the AFL-CIO, exercised too much power. Interesting, too, is the Poll's finding that there is less difference of opinion as to which big unions and labor organizations enjoy excessive power.

In Canada as well as in the U.S., danger of union power grows from the exemption of unions from legal responsibility for their actions. Today, in Canada or in the U.S., a small group of union officials may, without breaking the law, shut down a whole industry and then proceed to make decisions with the most amenable companies in order to put pressure on the rest to settle on the union's own terms. If industrial management resorted to any such tactics heavy penalties would be incurred. Only simple and effective answer to problem of excessive union power is to subject unions to anti-monopoly legislation in the same manner as management. In view of findings of Canadian Gallup Poll it is likely that some such restraint on union power would not meet with disfavor in the eyes of at least 50 per cent of this country's organized workers.

CHRYSLER DAMAGED
More than 200 questioned and citizens of Trenton were concerned with the damage to a Dakota, a small aircraft. The plane was reported to fly on Nov. 25 when electrical system discovered a number of electricians wires apparently deliberately severed. Almost three days of work was required to replace the damaged wires.

On Dec. 3 similar but less extensive damage inside the fuselage was discovered in connection with Group Captain D. J. Williams, commanding officer of the Trenton RCAF station. He described the incident as a "serious damage".

CHRISTMAS SEALS
Ontario Health Minister Dymond will begin a ten-day tour of the province's sanitarium next Saturday in support of the Christmas Seals campaign. He will be joined by the Ontario Health Minister Dymond who has wanted to visit the province's 13 tuberculosis sanitariums since last year, during mental hospital week.

RHODES SCHOLARS
The Ontario selection committee for Rhodes scholarships announced the names of the Ontario winners are David Arnold Stager, 22, of Smithville, and Timothy Escott Reid, 22, of Hamilton. Stager is a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, is studying economics at Johns Hopkins University. Mr. Reid, a graduate of Ridley College at St. Catharines and of Toronto, is doing post-graduate work in economics at Yale University.

SPRINKLER LOST
The new post office at Burlington near Hamilton, opened last week just in time for the Christmas rush, was burglarized Sunday night of its Christmas stamp supply - $19,000 worth. Police said thieves left no sign of entry or exit. They forced their way into a walk-in vault and, unable to open the cash safe, took the stamps.

KNOX COUPLES CLUB
The Christmas meeting of the C.C. was held at the home of Reta and Gordon Miller with a very good attendance.

The president opened the meeting with the reading "A Visit From St. Nick". A sing-song of several carols was enjoyed with Reta at the piano. Joyce Elliott presented the secretary's and treasurer's reports and a gratifying amount was noted from catering to the ball banquet. Another high chair will be purchased for the nursery. A discussion on new tables was held over until January when more information will be presented.

Mr. Smith presided for the election of officers and the slate for 1960 is as follows:
Past Presidents - Dorothy and Bill Saunders; Presidents - Jim and Irene Mitchell; Vice-Presidents - Hazel and Robt. Davidson; Secy-Treasurer - Joyce Elliott; Press Reporter - Bill Saunders; Card and Gift - Ruth Craddock; Programme Committee - Joyce and Jim Davidson; Ruth and Oscar Phillips; Dorothy and Bill Saunders; Hazel and Robert Davidson.

Dorothy expressed appreciation to all members for their helpfulness in the past year and Ruth Craddock responded with words of "well done" to Dorothy and Bill for their year of leadership.

Several games under the guidance of Mr. and Mrs. Smith were enjoyed and it was quite a thrill to a few fearless people to meet "King Bobo". Mr. Smith led in meditation on the Christmas theme, reading several poems and closing with the Scripture and prayer.

Refreshments were enjoyed and a session of chatter concluded the January hosts will be Jim and Irene Mitchell on Tuesday the 8th.

"Yes, Doctor... Wednesday will be fine!"

When it's time to have the dentist check daughter's teeth, Mrs. Smith naturally reaches for the telephone, that helpful "member-of-the-family" with the habit of getting things done.

When you look back over your day, it's sometimes surprising to realize in just how many little ways the telephone has helped you... how it adds so much convenience and comfort to everyday living.

IN THE ORBIT OF OUR EYE!

THE ATOM - IN OUR EYE!
By C. D. CLARKE

They say that some are so blind as those that will not see. Well, there is plenty to see in our world today, perhaps the most important thing to cast an eye on is the matter of the atom.

Right from our school, to our business, to our home, the new atomic energy is casting a shadow and making a change. Can you see it? Can you sense it? External Affairs Minister Green, in his recent speech to the United Nations, very pointedly outlined some of the aspects of the use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes. "Very little is known," he said, "about the first fundamental aspects of radiation." And he called for a pooling of world information on the greatest fact of modern times, the Atom!

Already in our Ontario Schools, the increased interest in the atomic age is causing teachers to seriously review all aspects of this "Atom," and to think, not only in terms of the Atom in to-day's education of youth, but in terms of their own inadequacy to even grasp the first fundamentals of what nuclear physics has to mean to both them and their pupils, now and in the years ahead. This outlook is found in every educationist in Canada today. All know some serious thinking has to be done! All know some serious changes must be made! But none know how to do it. It is a good thing that at this time, there is any answer. And yet, in this respect, collegiate education is changing rapidly. The Atom is with us - and we are not all with it!

To look ahead one must, of necessity, look back. Since there are not more than about eighty members of the Reid family held a Reunion in the Orange Hall in honour of the late Mrs. E. C. Coulter of Edmonton, who were spending some time visiting relatives here. Mr. Coulter and Mrs. Coulter, who were present during a recent visit to the Continent of Europe. A very pleasant evening was spent in a close with a beautiful lunch. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reid have recently returned from a trip to the Highway near Decewville. This place was formerly owned by Mrs. Reid, the late Mrs. M. and Mrs. Werner.
