ONTARIO HOG PRICES

JULY 6TH—10TH

TORONTO—Grade A hogs in Ontario are holding firm at $23.75 per cwt. at marketing yards of the Ontario Hog Producers Co-operative. No. 1 light sows are unchanged at $20.50; No. 1 heavy sows and No. 2 sows unchanged at $18.50 and stages at $15.00.

On the western market this week Winnipeg reports hog sales at $23.00 per cwt. Monday and Tuesday and $23.00 to $23.50 Wednesday; Calgary $21.60 Tuesday and Wednesday.

In Montreal this week hog prices on the western market are steady at $26.00 Monday to Wednesday and sows $17.00 to $18.00. The East end market reports $24.00 per cwt. for hogs Monday and Tuesday and $17.00 to $18.00 for sows.

Totals for hogs for the previous week: The number of hogs going through the 28 marketing yards of the Hog Co-op in Ontario last week was 44,069, a decrease of 1,782 over the previous week. This represents 94% of total gradings. The above figures do not include Ontario hogs moving Quebec to the west.

Correction on last week's report: No. 1 light sows should have been $20.50 instead of $25.50.

2 Acre Tract Purchased by County for Park Area

The decision to buy the property came after a 14-member delegation, representing the Niagara Region Development Association, the Haldimand Women's Institutes and the Haldimand Federation of Agricultural Societies, appeared before Council, urging immediate steps be taken to establish a public park.

Before the decision was made to buy the property the matter was given consideration by the meeting. Several Council members expressed doubts as to the wisdom of making a decision. Reeve Lorne Stringer, of Camboro and Reeve James Cossar of South Cayuga suggested further consideration should be given to the probable additional costs required and possibly a study of making a decision would be advisable.

Russell Hare and George Ramsey, members of the Niagara Region Development Association, estimated the value of the present buildings on the property at $10,000.

When the vote was taken all members gave their support to the project.

Councillors Ted Montague and Clare Kinky were appointed as a standing committee pending the appointment of a permanent parks committee.

SELKIRK — Selkirk was helped considerably by errors and 'freak' bounces that seemed to occur at critical moments.

Selkirk scored twice in the bottom of the first frame on 3 hits and 2 errors but Jarvis came roaring back in the top of the second for 3 runs. Jack Nixon lined a home-run over 2nd base with Peeney and Auer on base. This led was short-lived however, for Selkirk scored 5 times in their half of the second, 3 times in the third and three times in the fourth. Their final run came in the 8th.

Joe Auer was hurt in the 2nd inning at a play at home plate and was replaced by Meahan. In the sixth a new catcher was discovered in the person of Joe Clark.

For Selkirk, Dennis went all the way with 4 strike-outs and 4 bases on balls. Edwards struck out 6 and walked five batters. Jarvis — 3 runs on 6 hits, 10 errors. Selkirk — 14 runs on 14 hits, 2 errors.

LOCAL PASTOR RETURNS

Rev. John M. Dykstra, pastor of the local Ebenezer Christian Reform Church, returned to Jarvis last week Wednesday from his European vacation during which he visited England, the Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland. The pastor hopes to preach his farewell sermons here on August 9th, and in that week on August 16th, at Monticello, Illinois, whence he has received a call.

The congregation here recently extended a call to Rev. Jack Quartel of Wyoming, Ontario. This week Monday evening Rev. Quartel met with the Jarvis Consistory and representatives of the various churches of the congregation.

He hopes to send his wife to the call extended to him in about a week from now.

Brief Notes for the Busy Farmer

By Haldimand Harry

of 32 hours approved under the Premium Policy for the year 1958.

It has been found that the Livestock Branch. Of this 30 are of the Yorkshire breed and 2 are of the Landrace breed. The nearest breeder is Fred Jamieson of Port Hope. Discontinue the spreading before making any adjustments, cleaning, sharpening or inspecting.

Butter production for May in Haldimand was only slightly more than for the same month in 1958. Actual production was up 21 per cent for the period.

Rodney and Garry oats are the two most popular varieties being grown in Haldimand County and in every good reason why they should be. The most important one is, of course, that they are yielding better than the other varieties being currently grown in Ontario. Both varieties were developed at the Cereal Breeding Laboratory located in Winnipeg. Of the two, the Rodney has proven to be a little superior to the Garry in the tests that have been made in the county. This variety is a little later than the Garry and for that reason may be missing some of the hot weather in the critical stages of grain filling. The Glen, Fundy, Shield and Clinton 60 are other varieties that are under test in Haldimand this year. The results of these tests will be reported at the time of the annual meeting of the Soil and Crop Improvement Association early next January.

Just remember that gasoline tanks should be checked outside of buildings so that fumes cannot collect in large quantities. Gasoline vapours are invisible but they are also heavier than air and will concentrate at lower levels in or out of a building.

BANTAM BASEBALL

The Jarvis Lions Club Bantam played an exhibition home-and-home series with the Ancaster All-Star Team over the week end. Jarvis came out victorious in both games, taking decisions of 7 to 3 at home and 4 to 3 at home.

Cassidy and Van Every pitched Ancaster and were greatly aided by spectacular fielding. Three double plays were recorded in the course of the seven innings. At Jarvis Donato and Cassidy held the All-Stars.

Another exhibition game will be played on Friday night of this week at Simcoe. It will be decided at that time when the league play-offs will be run off and as far as Jarvis is concerned it can't be too soon.

Laurie Kendry Uses Handicap To Advantage

By Bill Broad

In the Stratford Beacon-Herald

Life for the blind is dark, but certainly not dull. This is the impression received in conversation with slight, 58-pound Laurie Kendry, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kendry, R.R. 2 Jarvis, Ont.

Laurie has been blind for five years, but continues to do a full day's work in addition to living independently in her three-roomed apartment.

The only difference between Laurie and other employees of Fischer Bearing Manufacturing Limited, where she works is that she travels to and from work by cab.

She has been working at the local plant for three years and in a lively voice will tell you that she likes her work fine. In the words of her employer, Joseph Kleinman, Laurie performs her job better than a seeing person, because touch is all-important in determining if a bearing is running-free.

Sitting at her bench in the highly-mechanized production line, Laurie handles thousands of bearings a day. Deftly spinning the bearing in her small hands, she sifts the good from the bad through her improved sense of touch.

Laurie's sight has always been blurred, but for ten years she has held an assembling job in a Toronto plastics plant. In 1954 she underwent surgery, complications set in and gradually sight in her left eye, which had been the best, deteriorated to the point where she was only able to discern night from day.

Her right eye, always poor, now has only two per cent vision, termed by the specialists "guiding vision". In the plant she can tell if there is someone standing beside her, but is unable to determine features.

Following the unsuccessful operation she decided to attend a school in St. Catharines, operated by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Here she was taught to make use of her other senses, and to take note of things about her.

During her seven-week stay at the school, she learned how to read and write Braille; to do leatherwork, knit and general (Roman Catholic), both of the R.C.A.P.

After a short absence by the Queen's Royal Inspection of the Royal Canadian Air Force guard of honour, an impressive religious service was conducted by Group Captain F.W. Meagan, Chaplain-in-Chief of the (Protestant) and by Group Captain MSGR. L. A. Costello, deputy chaplain general (Roman Catholic), both of the R.C.A.P.

At four o'clock the Queen and Prince Philip arrived on Parliament Hill in the state landau, accompanied by the colourful Royal Canadian Mounted Police escort. The Presentation of Colours bearing the World War II battle honours was a most colourful and spine-tingling pageant.

Colour parties of the Canadian Grenadier Guards in stately bearers, have killed Highlanders of the 48th Highlanders of Canada in feather bonnets, and of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders of Canada in belted gunnies and balmorals, knelt before their Colonel-in-Chief to receive Queen's and regimental colours.

The weather was perfect until near the end of the thrilling Sunset Ceremony presented at 8.30 P.M. by the Royal Canadian Navy. A crowd of nearly 5,000, enthralled by their presence, witnessed the presentation of this century-old ritual, were so absorbed that they did not budge from their positions as the Canadian Block grounds while sprinkling rains developed into a steady downpour. This did not faze the compliment of 156 Navy recruits comprising the piece band and a guard of equal strength, as well as two gun crews of 30 each.

It was the first time the Sunset Ceremony had been presented in the Capital since October 1957 when the Queen opened Parliament. This traditional observance is a combination of three naval customs: the lowering of the White Ensign; the Retreat Call and the Tattoo. "The Retreat", originated in the days of the Crusades, consisted of a drum and bagpipe call warning those outside a walled city it was time to return home before the gates were closed for the night. The Tattoo was used by military garrisons in early Canadian settlements to remind those on leave to return to their quarters.

The visit of Her Majesty to the Capital City on Dominion Day marks a long step forward in Canadian progress towards national unity. It has become well known that Canada is occupying a position of major importance, if not paramount importance, in the Commonwealth of Nations, the only international grouping of nations operating successfully in our troubled world today. Little wonder that Canadians everywhere are greeting their Monarch with unfeigned affection and enthusiasm.

Much time is spent in exploring nature, for instance, the winding path to the chapel, the steep banks of the lake, the view from a grain field. Here at Camp you are allowed to enjoy life. Its best.

Having breakfast, the beach really can be loads of fun and besides it gives you a chance to see what the fire die down so that you can toast your bread to a crisp brown, brings up the appetite. Or perhaps you enjoy a swim. Well here we have time to really have fun. Because of the woodland surrounding the north side of the campus, birds find it a charming place to sing from morning till night.

Many happy carefree days are spent here, as we strive to live the way God would have us live. These opportunities of camp life avoid many who attend this wonderful Camp. We campers of Camp Avalon, hope that many young people will take the opportunity, but before them, to attend a truly worthwhile camp.

"My First Holiday At Camp Avalon - 1959"

By Mary Ann Pettegrew

Was it going to be different or were we to enter the same routine followed? These thoughts were pondered on, as we approached the camp gate.

After registration, choices of different activities are decided upon. As our eyes wander around the campus, it is plain to see that it is a place of lasting beauty, for tall trees caress the neatly painted cabin. We find that already camp life has begun.

After your fellow campers have arrived you feel that a new and different adventure is awaiting you. It seems only a vision of excitement as we fall into a deep slumber.

As the whistle breaks the silence of the cool morning, we realize that it is time to get up and start the day anew.

Through each day, Camp Avalon brings a new adventure, the scene when we have morning watch where the cool fresh water dashes gently against the shiny, stainless-steel rocks. These are only a few of the many things which make it a fairly wonderful.

Through the days, activities that seem to be fun-filled budding with joy, are made by one-filled leaders.

Here at camp we devote a certain amount of time to ourselves, we
