

There is one thing that will always amaze us and that is the ineptness of fathers in handling a baby. A father might be extremely skillful in playing hockey, ball, bowling, or holding a hoss hand in a card game, but when it comes to holding a baby you'd think they were holding an armful of mercury. Now, if we do so ourselves, one thing we can do and that is hold a baby. In order to avoid misunderstanding we hasten to add that we mean an infant eighteen months and under. We'll admit we're pretty adept with the other types of babes, but that is not the subject being discussed here. Now back to the infants. When holding a baby, the thumb of the right hand should be placed under the armpit of the baby's left arm, the extended fingers should reach to the base of the neck and extend down the spine as far as the length of the fingers will allow. This hold enables one to manoeuvre the baby in any position and at the same time keep the back fully supported. The other hand (left) should be placed on the sit-down section of the baby's anatomy. This hold not only makes the handling of an infant easy, but at the same time gives the baby reassurance. It's a father's duty to learn these fundamentals and it certainly grieves us to realize there is at least one father in town who hasn't mastered this relatively elementary aspect of fatherhood.

We were pleased to notice that the Jarvis Lions Club has decided to sponsor Norm Graham's Eastern baseball team for the 1959 season. We had previously heard that Doc Austin and Bruce Miller were going to get behind the club and pick up the tabs on Norm's behalf. Apparently that all fell through just as soon as the Provincial election was announced. It seems Doc and Bruce are lining up a pretty heavy speaking itinerary and will be otherwise occupied until June 11th, at least.

They say there were 10,000 people at Harewood Acres for the sports car races last Saturday. We're not sure about the number of people but we are pretty certain at least 10,000 sports cars passed through town. It was almost like Broadway in New York City around the noon hour. At one time there was a solid line from the CNR Station to the Main intersection and Walpole street was lined from bumper to bumper. Such a thing couldn't have been imagined a generation ago.
