Minister Hees, Solicitor-General Leany doubt concerning our courage ousness. After that incident last fall, when Doc and his party went for a dip in the French River, he has found it impossible to get anyone to travel on these expeditions with him. And we'll admit, it took a little time to make up our mind as to the wissdom of the venture.

We're prepared, however, for just about anything to happen with the exception of taking a dip in the cool waters of Lake Onaping. We think we've mentioned we had our initiation in the dip club some years back and are not anxious to experience it again. Nevertheless we are going to wear four life jackets every time we go out in the boat with Doc. We figure that if we take every possible precaution there is a slight chance of getting back and reporting the activities in another issue.

Do you know that 27 farm people drowned last year. If you have a farm pond, be sure to keep a 10 or 12 foot bamboo pole, or an inner tube on a rope or a 2" x 8" x 6' cedar plank on a rope or a 2" x 8" x 6' cedar plank on a rope handy, advises Hal Wright, the Department of Agriculture Safety Specialist. The plank is a most useful article for this purpose as it can be more easily directed towards the victim. None of these items cost very much but they might save a life.
