When held up at an intersection by a traffic light, stop a few feet short of the crosswalk if you are in the passing lane. It makes it easier for a driver coming from your right to make a correct left turn in front of you. It's just one of those little acts of consideration for others that makes the better driver.

WEDDING

COMFORT—WEAVER

The marriage of Miss Shirley Anne Weaver and Grant Robert Comfort was solemnized on Friday, June 17th in Shanks Tabernacle, Dunnville, by Reverend Emory Shank, before a setting of orange blossoms, lilies and mums. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Weaver, of Chesapeake. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Comfort of Dunnville.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a floor-length gown of white organza over satin, accented by a fitted bodice and short puffed sleeves, set off by a white flowered head piece. She carried a white Bible, covered with pink roses and white carnations which she later wore on her going-away costume.

Miss Janet Macdonald, Nanticoke, a friend of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a cocktail-length dress of blue net over tulle and satin, accented by a net stole and blue flowered head piece. She carried a bouquet of white mums and pink carnations and roses entwined with ribbon streamers.

Marlene Weaver, sister of the bride as flower girl, wore a pink flowered nylon dress with a full skirt and puffed sleeves. Her head piece was a band of pink flowers and she carried a basket of yellow and white mums.

Three bridesmaids wore a dissonance of the House of Representatives before the new Japan - U.S. Security Pact is ratified.

The price in Japan has declared that violence must be wiped out and parliamentarianism protected. Democracy must be debated with words and the use of violence to advance an argument must not be used. When violence is accepted, democracy ends so it is felt that the government must take full responsibility to restore the situation. Because of the standstill in the national election, the House of Representatives must return to the Diet to protect parliamentarianism.

Wide new demonstrations have broken out again protesting the death of the Tokyo University student, who was a member of the Japanese Socialist member of the Diet because he was ashamed that the Japanese people would not welcome Eisenhower. Thousands are around the Diet tonight in the hopes to prevent the passage of the new security treaty.

It is known to many of these people is the fact that the old Security Treaty will be in effect even if the new Treaty is not ratified. However, the Communists are making their point here as they seem to be in so many other countries in the world. Seeing these demonstrations by immature students is very disheartening. They are like sheep. They are aware of what they are doing but as a group they follow the rest. Rather than being in school during the day, they are marching in columns through the streets where they hold up traffic and sing the Communist national anthem.

It is hard to say what will happen here now. Prime Minister Kishi will very likely have to resign to prevent further violence. Living through this each day, it makes me realize more and more how lucky Canadians are to be living under a democratic government. We should all take an interest in politics and look to our leaders with respect and faith. In the world today, we have to believe in our leaders. There seems to be only one of three alternatives — either a revolution in the Communist control of countries, a Communist world or another war fought with nuclear weapons.
