MOTHER CAN'T' BE HIS SISTER? OH, YES, SHE CAN - HERE'S HOW

minute, said the recruiting sergeant, your mother can't be your sister.

But she is, replied Billy Joe Miller. Not only that, his son is his brother and his father is his brother-in-law.

Sgt. L. V. Evers said Miller, a barber and guitarist in a string band.

Explained it like this after signing ensister to his Mother, now Mrs. Viola distorted and asked the recruiting sergeant, Miller Cribbs of Jacksonville.

And, because his father was marical to the Post Office and asked them to secure me a tick-distance of the in Ireland. Now all this was done to live the Post Office of record by the post Office for such to his mother, who also is his to become Billy's mother. She marical father also is his sister, his real father also is his to become Billy's mother. She marical father also is his sister. In turn, Billy Jr's grandmother is mailing barber and guitarist in a string band, The Millers adopted Billy, making birther-in-law. In turn, Billy Jr's grandmother is his sister and his father is his brother ed."

Joe Bell, Lou Wilson and myself were seated in the club we frequent, after work the other evening, and we started to talk about people who "give themselves away", because of a guilt feeling. Said Joe Bell, "I read in the paper the other day of a chap who made a successful robbery in a bank and was thousands of miles away heading to a safe hide-out. What happens? Why a policeman which was a say, caught unawares."

What Joe and Lou were talking about set me thinking. Why once
