

Sam Morris sure took the bait when we suggested a couple of weeks ago that the Jarvis Cheviots probably drew bigger crowds at the Port Dover Arena than the Home Town Sailors. Sam had a big headline last week which said:

"BIGGEST CROWDS AT RINK ROCKETS — SALLOWS GAMES"

The heading implies that the Sailors drew vastly increased crowds over the Cheviots. But we read farther and discover that for the Saturday night game (April 8) the Cheviots drew 777 paying customers. For the following Sunday game there were 796 paid admissions. Just 21 more.

One would almost think that if an out-of-town team could draw 777 paying customers the home team should double that number, especially when they play in a town claiming four times the population of the little old crossroads.

Our B.C. Correspondent, Clyde Cortright, gives our readers this week first hand information on the Federal election scene over in the coast province. In an accompanying letter he compliments Rusty on the fine job he did in holding the fort while the editor was in hospital. He also indicated in the letter that the news columns never once mentioned the reason for our incapacitation. So being true to the policy of revealing everything we know in this column we'll recite, in part at least, the reason for our long holiday this past winter. The ulcers we often referred to in this column as suffering from, were not just so much talk — they turned out to be a fact. It was what is known as a duodenal ulcer. The reason for the long stay in the hospital was partly accounted for by the fact it took that long to find it. It turned out that it wasn't because the ulcer wasn't big enough to see, but rather that it was hidden behind something else. When it was found the surgeons decided to do a stomach-ache operation. A stomach-ache operation consists of removing part of the stomach and diverting the intake of food through another channel. Up to this point we had little to complain about except that they didn't get the carving knife sharpened up soon enough to suit us. We found out later why surgeons dislike to do operations of this sort. It is because of the danger of infection. We took to infection like a duck does to water and they had to find two new places to cut on as many occasions as they got the point out of our system. Suffice it to say it was all accomplished successfully and now we are living on spicy food and all the other tasty dishes which we had been denied for 20 years. Now our liquid intake has been dangerously hampered. We thought we should add that last sentence for Clyde's information as he fully appreciates the weaknesses of newspaper people in this regard. We would also like to add for Clyde's information that we enjoy his occasional contributions to the Hamilton Spectator.

Local Items Of Interest

FIREMENS CLUB TO MEET

The Fireside Club will meet Thursday, April 20 in the Church Parish. Mrs. Russell Miller will speak on and demonstrate copper work.

INVITE VANIER TO HALDIMAND

Governor-General Vanier has been asked to speak at the Haldimand Farmers' Picnic to be held the first week in June at Kohler Rural Youth Centre. His Excellency has been offered June 7 or 8 as possible dates. The farm event will be held in conjunction with Haldimand's public schools sports day. The Vice-Royal tradition of paying special attention to schoolchildren improves the prospect of a fine day.

May you live long, old friend, to bring enjoyment to readers through your fluent pen.

Many local people enjoyed the privilege of listening to a Salvation Army group from Hamilton when they presented a musical concert in the United Church last week. It was a concert that anyone would thoroughly enjoy. Now has our liquid intake been dangerously hampered. We thought we should add that last sentence for Clyde's information as he fully appreciates the weaknesses of newspaper people in this regard. We would also like to add for Clyde's information that we enjoy his occasional contributions to the Hamilton Spectator.

JARVIS JEWELS 4-H MEETING

The fifth meeting of the Jarvis Jewels was held on April 7th, 1961 at the home of Louise Lundy with Joyce Bartlett as hostess. We opened our meeting with the 4-H Pledge. The roll call was then answered by seven girls. They answered by telling one occasion when shorts are suitable attire. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Pat Church. There were no errors found. Elaine Church adopted them as read and Penny McDonald was secretary. Janet gave a treasurer's report after taking up the collection. We discussed the idea of having a float on the twenty-second of May but nothing was decided. We would also like to thank the Women's Institute for the money donation they gave us to cover our expenses. Our next meeting is to be on Saturday, April 15th at the home of Louise Lundy with Donna Belbeck as hostess. The business meeting was then adjourned by Joyce Bartlett. Donna showed us how to pin shoulders of the blouse. We then worked on samples for our Record Book. We were then served a delightful lunch by our hostess.
