New First Lady "Like A Princess"

Always, whenever they saw her, her head was high and her eyes were bright. Her smile was radiant - but not for them. She would reply past, her eyes looking far ahead. Yet the crowds loved it.

This was Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy last month - back in New York for the first time since she moved to the White House and enjoying a pre-Easter shopping spree in the finest shops.

The next morning two men and two models, all resolutely refusing to give their names, appeared at the Carlyle, where she was shopping for the occasion.

Newsmen were still kept in the dark about her schedule as well as her new wardrobe. "Who is she?" they asked. "Is she a common complaint?"

She planned luncheon for six at Le Pavillon but did not attend. The great regret of all the doorman to whom she always speaks in French.

She was wearing a blue wool dress, blue puffer coat and alligator shoes with non-slip soles. The kind a woman can wear if her legs don't need high heels.

DRIVE CAREFULLY - The life you save may be your own.
ISSUE 17 - 1961

CAROLINE'S CAT - The White House cat, Tom Kitten, has new masters and a new name: Tom Terrific. Mrs. Kennedy decided the Executive Mansion was too lonely for the cat and gave him to her personal secretary, Mary Gallagher, Gregory, 3, and Christopher Gallagher, 4, find that Tom adapts easily.

NATURAL CURTAIN STRETCHERS - Living cactus fences that surround most rural homes on the island of Aruba, Netherlands West Indies, make handy "doohiesies." The laundry is draped over the prickly plants and the warm Caribbean trade winds do the drying.

to take any chances—Dee should see him first. He was the colour of chocolate and quite a bit bigger than the other boys.

As you may know my speciality in dogs is Welsh Corgis. Until recently I thought we were the only ones in this district to own a Corgi.

Newsmen were still kept in the dark about her schedule as well as her new wardrobe. "Who is she?" they asked.

Friday night, of course, we were faced with the problem of keeping peace between the two dogs - Tuffy and Gus.

Well, the last few days we have had a greater problem than dogs to contend with. Our township water supply is contaminated.

made the water quite undrinkable. Even dishes after being washed have the phenol odor clinging to them. We understand sewage from all refineries in the area has been dumped into the water supply.

Many couples arrived with the idea that so many others were going to be there at the same time. "We thought we were going to get away from it all," said Glen Brown, 28-year-old engineer from Wimborne, Dorset.

Side-draping softly accent this graceful afternoon dress. Wear it belted or not—there are no waist seams to interrupt the smooth and slimming line.

SEASONAL - With the sun getting hotter, the beach is a pleasant place to be, as Sheila Bailey proves.

ANNOUNCING The biggest fashion show of Spring-Summer 1961—pages, pages of patterns in our new Color Catalogue just out! Hurry, send $2.00 now!

EVERY INCH IS A HONEY - The presidential yacht is refurbished at an Annapolis boat yard. President Kennedy has changed the name from the "Barbara Anne" to the "Honey Fitz" in honor of his late grandfather, John Fitzgerald, former mayor of Boston.

Musial Reveals Busting Secrets

Stan Musial was sitting in the shade of the Cardinal dugout, and naturally it wasn't long before the conversation got around to hitting.

REEL SOLDIER - Jacques Charlier, former husband of actress Brigitte Bardot, fugged out of the French army, but he's in uniform again - for the movie comes. He's shown on location in Milan, Italy, where he plays a member of a fascist unit during World War II in the film "Pigeon Shooting."

Business Production Honey-mooning
There are, it seems, two kinds of honey-mooning. There is the togetherness of a couple who want to be alone together, gazing into each other's eyes and all that kind of thing.

Great Discovery By High-School Boys
Embedded in the slab of black shale were the Upper Triassic (175 million years ago) fossil remains of a gliding reptile, perhaps nature's first experimental attempt at aerial locomotion.

How Can I?
By Roberta Lee
Q. How can I avoid the disagreeable odor from rendering fat?
A. By placing the kettle containing the fat in your oven. Start the fat on the top of the stove and when heated through, place in a moderate oven until it is finished.

WIDE STORY - Sure enough, as suspected, those scary apes who appear on TV shows are usually only human after all. One of the Jim Backus shows, shown above on a Hollywood set, has the actor-stunt man, made the suit himself of yak fur and plastic.

Boy Scouting Greenland Style

Boy Scouting isn't what it used to be. Two Scouts have just come back from Greenland, 800 miles from the North Pole, where for five months they helped the United States Army in extinguishing the Arctic.
