

At this time of year it is pretty hard to keep track of what is going on. The weather is always a good topic of conversation but these past few days have been so nice there is little left to talk about. In fact, what have we had to complain about concerning the weather all season? Oh, we're aware that showers impeded the hay-making process for a time but so far as we can see the hay did get in and there is little complaint about the crop. The grain looks better than usual and our farmer friends who find it hard to keep their busy during the winter season are working to beat the band - all of which is the source of contentment and happiness. Last week we took off to the North. When our fishing friends left the week before for Lake Ontario, we caught the bug and simply couldn't resist a taste of that bracing atmosphere which is typical of Northern Ontario. It also gave us another opportunity to assess the progressiveness of this great Province. It is simply amazing to see the development from year to year. There is little relationship between 1951 and 1961 so far as that area north of North Bay is concerned. The Ontario Department of Highways is by-passing all the towns up Highway 11 and when one heads north now it can be done at a mile-a-minute pace. Consequently a five hundred mile journey can easily be made in one day.

Our trip took us to a point about thirty miles north-west of Maitland to a lake called Ice Chest. It is a small lake but it is beautiful and is attracting many cottagers. A few years ago only a limited number of pioneering spirits erected cottages on this lake but now they are going up all over the place which is typical of the entire North area. As the cities grow so will the summer cottages as people seek the pleasure of nature for at least a limited time each year. Almost every cottage seems to have a motor boat and one travels north the little lakes are dotted with pleasure craft which has brought this industry forward so rapidly in recent years.

Contrary to what our readers might expect, we go on record as saying we only caught one fish in two days of patiently dangling a line in the water. We say this notwithstanding the fact that Doc Austin has been going around town for the past two weeks telling everyone about the big fish he caught at Lake Onaping. We happen to know how many fish he caught and it doesn't correspond with the stories he is telling. We happen to know that Fred Reicheld won the prize for the first fish, the biggest fish and the most fish on that particular expedition, so don't let Doc try to tell you otherwise.

TIPS ON PROTECTING EGG QUALITY TO IMPROVE YOUR EGG GRADES

1. Provide 1 nest for every 4 laying hens. Use thin nest rails that won't collect droppings. Keep litter dry.
2. Collect eggs at least 3 times a day in summer, twice a day in winter. Collect every 2 hours when temperature is over 90°.
3. Don't let eggs stand outside in sun, or in heated area. 2 or 3 hours of warm air will lower grades.
4. Wash eggs immediately after gathering in water 110° to 120°. Leave in water less than 3 minutes. Dry immediately.
5. Place eggs in cooler. Ideal temperature 50 to 55°. Ideal humidity 70%.
6. Precool egg cases and flats before packing eggs.
7. Spray eggs with Purina Egg Spray.

IN THE ORBIT OF OUR EYE!

By C. D. CLARKE

"TO THE NURSES EVERYWHERE"

Among the several very competent nurses that I know of are two in particular, Miss Vollick and Miss Coulthart, in Doc Tom Tweed's office. These girls maintain a cheerful disposition that, by its very dependence, comes to be taken for granted. Believe me, Dr. Tom's office would be the poorer should his patients miss the friendly ministrations of either of these two fine nurses, or any of his other dependable young ladies that grace his establishment.

Harry M. Ferguson, late of Timmins, penned the following poem while he was in St. Joseph's Hospital and I begged a copy so that I could incorporate it in this column, sort of a "toast to Nurses, as it were, everywhere."

(Sung tenderly to the tune "McNamara's Band, with full chorus)
Oh me name is Michael Murphy
Of St. Joe's, in room eleven.
And when you're near a Murphy
It's as if you were in Heaven.
On we are a mighty power
We fight and sweat and strain.
But we all wear our Halos
In the presence of Murphy, the (Chorus)
Oh the puts they clang and the communes do bang.
As we ring the Nurses' bell,
And when dinner late is coming
Us Murphy's sure raise hell.
There's one of us comes from Broadway.

And one from Timmins too.
And one who wears a nurse's cap
Faith, she's a Murphy too!
Yes we have Nurse Pichell
From Italy's sunny shore,
And when she smiles "Good morning."
What man could ask for more?
She brings a breath of Heaven
She's as fresh as Killarney dew.
Bead she is so winsome,
She MUST be Irish too!
And then there's Miss O'Connor
(Now there's an Irish name!)
At morn, or noon, or evening,
Her smile is just the same.
She gives us pills for all our ills
And soothes our fevered brow,
Just one minute in her presence
And we feel fine - And How!

To Nurse Watson of the night shift,
Another thing that impresses on a trip to the North is the quality of the eating places compared to a few years ago. The restaurants are not only well equipped but are also staffed by competent help. There is no need for anyone heading north to pack a lunch these days.
We should tell our friend O.
B. Hill that he wouldn't know Wiley's Limestone Lake Hunting Lodge.
The old winding road that went past it a few years back has now been replaced by a modern highway.
The crooks and bends are gone and we suppose, Turkey-Turkey Wiley is too Ah, what memories!

VACATION NOTICE

Our Irish heads we bare.
We're sleepy as she serves us,
But we sense her tender care.
She tends us in the mid-night watch.
She's our Guardian Angel sweet.
So a Toast to our Miss Watson.
As a Nurse she's hard to beat.

Of course there's other Nurses
In this grand and glorious place
And each of them's an Angel
With me sainted Mother's face.
They pump us full of vitamins
No virtues do they lack.
When us Murphy's get dejected
Why, they even rub our back.

When God created this old world,
And set everything in place,
It didn't take so very long
"Till life was a dull rat race!
So God created Nurses
And what do you suppose?
He in His bounteous mercy
Sent the best down to St. Joe's!

Just take a cup of sunshine,
And stir it well with love.
And add a grain of patience,
That's sent only from above.
Then take a grain of purest gold
From the Blessed Virgin's purse.
Now mix them all completely,
And behold, you have a NURSE!

YOU CONTROL THE GROWING CONTROL THE HARVESTING CAN CONTROL THE MARKETING

By marketing your grain through your Co-op, you and thousands of farmer-producers will have a greater influence in the grain market. This more effective control by farmers is reflected in the fact that now more than one-third of Ontario's cash grain crop is marketed through Co-ops. Your local Co-op has complete facilities to assure you of fast handling, accurate weighing, moisture-testing and grading... this year, market your grain through the farmers' own organization - the Co-op.
