IT WOULDN'T SEEM LIKE CHRISTMAS IF WE COULDN'T GET IN TOUCH AND WISH THE CHOICEST BLESSINGS TO THOSE WHO MEAN SO MUCH!

Christmas lighting around the Village is improving year by year. The most outstanding work this year, however, is the Nativity scene in front of Knox Presbyterian Church. Usually a creating such as this requires the ingenuity and efforts of one or two individuals. Although we do not know who is responsible for this fine effort, we do know it is worthy of the highest commendation.

We were disappointed in not being able to get to the hockey game at Port Dover on Monday night but it was made tolerable by the fact that Jarvis Cheviot almost skunked the Port Dover entry. When they lost to Port Dover a couple of weeks ago we said it was a mystery and this is now confirmed. Some of the people at rinkside informed us that the Cheviots dominated the play through out and the poor old sailors were dazzled by their superior opponents. They'll be playing again in a couple of weeks and there should be at least two hundred fans go down to Port Dover just to see for themselves how Jarvis out-ranks the Norfolk entry in the Erie League.

We'd make more comment as is our usual custom, on the bowling situation but our neighbour took us to task last week for restricting our reporting of the bowling scene to one league. We'll gladly admit this is the case but the fact is we are not aware of the outstanding skills of other bowlers around town. We have heard that Esther Elliott and Shirley Hesse bowl between 300 and 400 almost every time out and if this is the case we'll have to admit they are out of the class in our league. We will say this, however, that George Anderson's Hobbitis are still league leaders in the Monday night Church league.

Judith Robinson passed away this week. Judith Robinson was, in our opinion, the outstanding newspaper woman in Canada. While she wrote generally with a caustic pen, and it was always for a purpose. She always championed the underdog and she tried to achieve her purpose by the most direct course. We recall with satisfaction a period of more than two years, back in the late Thirties, when she wrote a weekly column for The Record. Her writings brought us more reader mail than anything before or since. When, in the early stages of the war she said "that a bomb dropped on the House of Commons would do less harm than if dropped anywhere else in Canada" we had many subscribers threatening to cancel their subscriptions. It is gratifying to note twenty years later that she is credited with making a notable contribution to the Canadian State of readiness for that conflict. There isn't another writer like her in Canada and Canada will be the poorer through her passing.

We hope that every reader has a happy and joyous Christmas. We are happy to be able to pound a typewriter without getting a stomach ache and that's the best Christmas present we've ever received. May every blessing come your way in 1962.

PERSONALS

Miss Lottie Herron of Tilsonburg has been the guest of her sister Mrs. Leslie Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Miller, Patti Jarvis Cheviot almost skunked the Port Dover entry. When they lost to Port Dover a couple of weeks ago we said it was a mystery and this is now confirmed.

Local members of the County Council and Children's Aid Society attended the funeral of the late Frank Young in Caledonia on Friday.

Mrs. Ward Parsons and daughters Sylvia and Shani of Basingstoke, England are spending a few weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Reichel.

Principal James Weir and Mrs. Weir entertained the staff of Jarvis Public School with their husbands and the School Board with their wives at their home in Ancaster on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Ellwood attended the "Open House" of their sons "Answering Service" at Stoney Creek on Saturday, remaining as dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Elwood in the evening.

The many friends of Mr. Douglas Cook were pleased to see him back in the Village last week end. Mr. Cook and daughter Janet spent a few days at their home here. Mrs. Cook is still confined to hospital, is making favorable progress following their accident.

MINISTERS MESSAGES

The celebration of the birth of Jesus in the Bethlehem manger may have degenerated into a sentimental, superficial experience for many. But it was never meant to be so. We were meant to leave the cradle, and face the cross. The very name Jesus means "Saviour". Christmas speaks to us, therefore, of our need of salvation. Our need to be saved from ourselves, from the perversity and foolishness of our sinful ways unto "new life" in Him who bore our sins "for the love wherewith He loved us". To bring into our hearts and lives that "real and abiding joy" which is found alone in Him. "What shall I give Him? Give Him my heart." Only as we have done that can we truly celebrate Christmas. For that is the reason why Jesus was born. He came to bind our hearts together with the heart of God.

Today marks the 50th year Union Gas has helped keep the sky blue over Southwestern Ontario

Blue because when natural gas burns the only by-products are carbon dioxide, nitrogen and water vapour — and they're already present in the purest air. But there is more to our story than simply blue sky and fresh air. Since the inception of our company fifty years ago, we have grown to the point where we now serve more than 230,000 residential, commercial and industrial customers throughout Southwestern Ontario. The blue flame brings you economy and versatility as well as blue sky. It heats homes and water, cooks, dries clothes, refrigerates and incinerates for homes, hotels, motels, restaurants, hospitals, schools and you-name-it. It's kind to big budgets and small budgets alike because it's one of the most versatile and efficient fuels in the world. In industry, it helps produce everything from soap to cars to tempered steel, and in many cases, it becomes the raw material itself to produce modern synthetic fibres and plastics. So whenever you look up and see a blue sky, think of a blue flame. And Union Gas. And fifty years of established service.
