ORBIT OF

OUR EYE!

Judging by the correspondence we have been receiving there are at least a few readers who would like to see the Old Pot boiling again. It is hard to realize that it was away back in October of last year that we ran out of fuel. We are hoping, almost desperately, that the old fuel tank will never go dry again but the experiences over the past three months leaves that as a matter of uncertain determination in our mind.

As we strive to get back into the whirl and once again revive this column and there'll never be any argument our gratitude. First of all there are those who took over the few tasks that normally occupied our time. All at once we discovered that our effort in keeping the wheel of progress marching along was, in itself, insignificant. The wheel is still gometing as strongly as ever and we have not even been leaning on it for three months. Nevertheless we appreciate the efforts of those who took up the standard of the progress of the progress marching along was, in itself, insignificant. The wheel is still gometing in grass strongly as ever and we have not even been leaning on it for three months. Nevertheless we appreciate who the efforts of those who took up the standard of the progress of the prog our return home almost two weeks ago we have carefully re-read these messages and have been deeply moved by them. What greater wealth could one have than the sincere good will of a wide circle of friends? Indeed while lying in a hospital bed and unable to move because of the insertion of innumerable tubes, nothing seems to have any importance ing seems to have any importance save the richness of human relation-
