Doing this after contributing to our economic welfare in a hoss game when John Martin visited town a few days earlier was almost too much. We can hardly wait to complete the circuit by relieving him of some more of his surplus cash when we again meet in competition at the bowling alley.

To forecast the prosperity or misery of this community for 1961 a prophet would have to foresee the state of business in the machine tool and granite industries. If they prosper, we prosper. This is the story of any community dominated by one or two industries.

If children live where television is turned on most of the time or the radio is played by the hour these things will engage their attention.

If Dad and Mother read and provide books for Mary and John to read too, there's a good chance they will be read. If Mary or John says "Tell me a story" and if Dad or Mother do that, they are on their way to join the ranks of the book lovers.

John may graduate to poring over space age fiction and Mary may become absorbed in schoolgirl romance yarns. But the principle is there.
Whatever the allurements or counter diversions like TV and radio, the young readers are likely to find enough time to keep booksliers. book publishers and authors in business during the foreseeable future.

The sun is shining brighter these days. The Pot Editor took his first view of the old burg on Monday and well tell you everything looked pretty good. The satisfaction of getting outside four walls again after a period of 98 days causes us to have a sympathetic attitude toward the incarcerated individuals populating our penal institutions. We're going to try to keep out of serious trouble from here in. As we said before everything looked pretty good along main street.

There is much agitation on this subject today with pessimistic booklovers expressing fear that TV and radio programs are weaning away readers.

Mary and John are getting so absorbed in watching western, puppet shows and so forth that they are ignoring their books, the argument runs. Children's classics like "Alice in Wonderland" and "Treasure Island" gather dust on the shelves.

The pessimists contend that little can be done to salvage the adult TV addict. He or she is so wrapped in the nightly visual performances com-
