FRIGHTENING PROMISES

generations, men and women

turned to the Holy Scriptures for guidance and there found words that have given new strength, fresh hope and many times, however, we have found these words only those who have desired to read, have failed to take notice of the consequences of His grace.

These words come to us as a source of confidence and assurance, for we are told that we shall be given; that we shall find; that we shall be open to you; for every man who shall receive.

These words of blessing are not only for the living, but also an experience which gives grave and serious in its promises.
