

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Editor,
The Jarvis Record,
Jarvis, Ont.

Dear Sir: I have read your newspaper for many years and we know you would not willingly contrive to distort the truth. In your last edition we read with interest a letter to the Editor from four local citizens and felt you should be given the facts.

The hosts of this fishing trip were two former citizens of Jarvis. However, since leaving here it would seem they have been misled and their integrity becomes doubtful.

Coming from the shores of Lake Erie and being accustomed to excellent fish dinners, you can imagine our amazement when we were told that we were going to a taxidermist. Fearing of being rude to our hosts we silently thought of one of these gentlemen, along with two stalwart local fishermen displaying a "Lamb and Catch" of bass last season in your end of town. Now I ask you, did you get into this controversy but it does strike us strange that so many local followers of the sport go to the Beaverton area so frequently and never seem to come home with any fish. We refuse to go along with the suggestion that John Martin has taken all the big ones before they get there.

We'd like to say a word about the Amateur Show on Saturday. This has been a feature of the Victoria Celebration for many years now, and in our opinion, it continues to perform the same valuable function it always did. That it gives the youthful performers an opportunity to accustom themselves to appear before an audience. It is amazing the number of people who go through life with an absolute dread of standing up before an audience. Just a little experience at a nearby age can remove this trait of personality and make life a good deal more pleasant in later years. In addition to this we think the talent is remarkable. While prizes are given to the best talent this is by no means the main purpose of the show and we believe this is generally understood.

There would appear to be a longer delay than usual in completing the Community Fund Campaign this year. And reports would indicate that responses to the Fund is slightly below par. There may be no cause for concern. However, it would be most regretful to see this kind of handling our charitable contributions fall apart or, indeed, suffer from the standard set from year to year. We must also keep in mind that the people who are managing the campaign and those who volunteer their services as collectors are doing a job on our behalf and we should do all we can to make their plan as easy as possible. Let's hope the campaign can be completed successfully soon.
