Safety Is Not The Real Word
It is worth noting that what the National Safety Council said...
A GAY BLADE - Dr. Hugh Whytock

Beasts Slaughtered For Souvenirs
The law of the jungle is that only the strongest survive. It is a law that, unfortunately, is not entirely confined to the jungle.

Famous Regiment Preserves A Penny
The Cheshire Regiment, nicknamed the "Red Knights", has returned to Northern Ireland to recuperate a little from three arduous years spent fighting Communist terrorists in Malaya.

LUCKY FISH!
Record crowds have been flocking to the fried fish shop of Mr. Masaki Kunieda, in Nagoya, Central Japan.

RENT A CASTLE FOR A SHILLING A YEAR
An Englishman's house is his castle, so they say. Well, why not rent one?

MODERN ETIQUETTE
By Anne Ashley

Q. I have paraffin glasses and sometimes like to serve a paraffin for dessert. Since I have no paraffin spoons, is it all right to use lead-tea spoons, instead, and do you think a paraffin makes a nice company dessert?

Q. Yes, to both questions.

City Worries Over Absence Of Storks
Residents in Strasbourg are worried because their house-tops no longer seem attractive to white storks.

George Jessel Takes His Own Trip
For some weeks, radio listeners in Los Angeles have been hearing raucous George Jessel in perhaps his best-known vaudeville routine.

PERSONALLY KNOWN TO ME.
Mrs. L. suffered a heart attack. Hospitalization was clearly indicated but there was no bed available.

Matchstick Hangs Brutal Killer
In May, 1927, an attendant at Charing Cross station left luggage office complained bitterly about the awful smell coming from the corner of the department.

Gay, Cozy, Easy!
The driver of the taxi was able to take the story a step farther. He was able to remember that he had taken a fare to Rochester Row police station on the afternoon of May 6th.

CHRONICLES OF GINGER FARM
Our chicken-pox grandsons are gradually returning to normal. David is back to school, Eddie and Jerry are dressed and running around the house.
