COURT CROOKED
(Intended for last issue)

The March meeting of Court Crooked Creek No. 1127, Canadian Order of Foresters was held the first Thursday of the month at N. Woodcock with three officers absent. The visiting committee reported four baby cards sent to happy parents and sympathy cards sent to the families of our two late Sisters.

The new business revealed a number of ideas and a good deal of discussion. It was decided to have a "Farol Post" for the anniversary in May with letters to be sent to Lady Forester lodges throughout the Dominion. The postponed card party is to be carried on, and a pot luck supper for both the ladies and mens lodges and their families to be held in Easter holidays. The climax being a play to be presented next fall, so come on, birds, dig up your talents. A flower fund was created and the monthly box will be available each month.

The lunch committee for April is Sisters Elsie Evans, Evelyn Field, Cora Hodges and Alma Field and the entertainment committee is Sisters Pauline and Mrs. M. J. Hamilton.

The Penny Drill was followed by closing of Court after which games, conducted by the Dorothy Saunders were enjoyed. Lunch brought the evening to a close.

CHRISTIAN SERVICE BRIGADE REPORTING
At the tone of the Lieutenant's whistle, twenty-four boys fell into formation in the Community Baptist Church, and the Captain opened the meeting in prayer. The squads were immediately dispersed to their squad meetings and given a hint to hurry. Eventually (in two minutes) the whistle was blown again, and the confusion was to begin! However, after about fifteen minutes, almost everything was under control, and everyone was participating in one game or another, or just good spectators. Fourteen boys had participated in a rousing and somewhat roudy game of hockey; a faithful Maple Leaf fan, Wilbur Marshall was the night's star player, seconded by Gerald Stewart. Guy Drinkwater and Blake Zittel gained honorable mentions. Due to a shortage of time resulting from a stalemate, a chess championship could not be determined. Only four boys were content to settle down to a quiet game of checkers, with Murray Stewart emerging the victor, followed closely by Bob Welt. Gerald Stewart claimed the title of being the ricksho champion; although he had tough competition from second place winner Bill Rounce and third place Dave Foster. Fred Harris, Walt Cassidy and Dave Paul were quite proud of their dirt scores; although no endurers were made to record scores on the dart
