The forgiveness ...Christ is a creative force ...it is not simply a question ...indulgence which makes ...for people, letting by-...by-gones and overlooking ...ures. Worthiness never enters ...it. Rather forgiveness is granted in order to meet a human need. To bring order out of chaos evil out of good, new life out of the old.

Christianity has oftimes been accused by some of being negative, always pointing out the weaknesses and sins of men and women. True, the Cross, that central symbol of the faith, does confront us with the stark reality of sin, its dowastating results, its far-reaching consequences. Nevertheless, it also offers man the most optimistic outlook possible. The Cross offers forgiveness, a new life, infinite possibilities. Indeed the text-book of our faith - the Bible - is the most heartening, bracing and triumphant book in the world, for it never completely despairs of man. In the Old Testament we find such confidence in God as - "I will forgive their iniquities and I will remember their sins no more," and when we turn to the New Testament in the closing pages we find the promise - "Behold I make all things new."

The Cross, is the symbol of mans hope, of His reconciliation, of inner renewal and moral recovery. It promises that the past can be erased and new opportunities and blessings await the man or woman who has faith enough to accept God's free and loving gift.

The report of Dr. W. C. Powell, M.O.H. for Wainfleet Township shows a total of 32 cases of infectious hepatitus in this area at the present time. The highest number of cases reported since the outbreak started about a year ago was last month (February) when 42 cases were being treated.

"The public" says Dr. Powell, "can assist by remaining in isolation when they are sick, especially with any stomach complaint, until they have seen their Doctor. Hepatitus is an infectious condition and is spread by personal contact in 99 per cent of cases as has been found in this locality."

Dr. Powell further points out that the best preventative procedure relates to personal hygiene, washing after toilet and before eating are essential in control. Supplies of Gamma Globulin has been made available by the Ontario Department of Health for family contacts of those cases who have had no previous exposure. Experience suggests that, used in this way, the disease can be modified and the number of jaundiced cases reduced.

To aid in reducing all infectious diseases the M.O.H. reminds teachers to request a medical return certificate for any child who has been away from school two days.

GIRLS' DAY

ALTHOUGH GIRLS' DAY is celebrated on the third day of the third month in Japan at a time when the peach blossoms are at their fullest, it was my good fortune to be invited to a Japanese girl's home a day later, on March 4, to celebrate this special time set aside for Japanese girls. It is a festival known as HINA MATSURI (Peach Blossom Fete), Dolls' Festival or Girls' Festival in that all these factors combined play a part in the festivities.

This was all a new experience for me and one that was most delightful. It reminded me of a playmate's birthday party when I was a young school girl. My hostess had invited three other Japanese girls who were all beautifully dressed in silk kimonos and were kneeling around a low table when I arrived in the late afternoon. The room was heated by a charcoal hibachi (brazier) and kotatsu which warmed our feet under the table.

For the first hour we sat around the table drinking Japanese tea, talking as all girls talk and discussing the traditions connected with Girls' Day. In one corner of the room there were dolls on display and it seems that these dolls are usually ceremonial dolls handed down from generation to generation. When the festival is over the dolls are carefully boxed and stored until the following year. Parents who do not have heirloom dolls buy new sets for any girl-baby born and it is the custom for relatives and friends to make gifts of dolls. A set consists of fifteen dolls in ancient silk costumes representing the Emperor and Empress, attended by their ministers and other dignitaries, court ladies and musicians. They are all displayed on a doll stand which has a tier of five or seven shelves covered with red cloth. The Emperor and Empress are on the top shelf. Behind them are miniature folding screens forming a background for toy candle sticks and vases of peach blossoms. Court ladies and toy trays occupy the second shelf and musicians, ministers, court officials and many delicacies in elaborate boxes are placed on the lower shelves. Among the dolls you can see exquisite samples of art which might include miniature chests of drawers, hibachi, dining table, china dishes, musical instruments and toilet stands. Peach blossoms which symbolize happiness in marriage and the feminine characteristics of softness, mildness and peacefulness are on the stand as well. Visitors to that girl's home will bring small cakes, fruit-shaped candy, diamond-shaped rice cakes, white sake and coloured wheat gluten as gifts to the doll stand.

Our dinner was a traditional girls' day meal lasting over three hours. First of all we had a cup of white sake (a special thick wine served only on this day and made of ground rice and sweet sake). This was followed by a clear soup in covered lacquer bowls and various types of sushi. Sushi is a small cake of steamed rice served either with slices of raw fish, seaweed or egg and discussing the traditions connected with custard. Each piece of sushi was artistically arranged on the plate — something which the Japanese have a wonderful talent for. After dinner we were served fruit, candies and nuts which were taken from the stacks of candy boxes on the doll stand. Needless to say, our tummies were following year. Parents who do not have heirfull and the hour was late when we had finished this repast. As a parting gift the hostess gave me a miniature box of candied grapes and a bottle of white sake, both very significant souvenirs of the occasion.

We had a very happy evening together but I think it was particularly enjoyable for me in that it was a custom that I had never observed or experienced and one that I feel young Canadian girls would like. After all with a Mother's Day, why shouldn't we have Children's Day too?

Sports Highlights

EDWARDS LEADS SCORERS TO BEAT AYR IN OVERTIME WIN

Nearly seven hundred fans got their money's worth at the Port Dover Arena on Monday night in the opening game of the Intermediate "A" O.R.H.A. Play-offs. The Jarvis Chevies and the Ayr Rockets scored a total of twenty-one goals in the regular game and one overtime period. Jarvis had a one-goal advantage with the final score standing at 11—10.

It was a fast, rugged type of game which has been the feature of the contests between these two teams over the years. And much more excitement is expected before the series ends.

Johnny Edwards led the local scorers with three to his credit including a goal in overtime. Harold Nixon, Reg. Anderson and Sonny Lowe each counted, two while singles went to Bill Nixon and Tom Saunders Les. Pettigrew was top scorer for the losers with three to his credit. Ron Hill had a pair and singles went to Don Schaeffer, Scott Wells, Jim Brenen, Cliff Leach and G. Marshall.

Jarvis led four to three at the end of the first period but the visitors out scored the Chevies five to two in the middle stanza to take a two goal lead into the third period. Two third period goals by Johnny Edwards and a single by Bill Nixon put Jarvis one up with only a fraction of a second to go in the third period. Ayr pulled their goal tender and Marshall slapped home the tying counter just before the bell ended the period.

Johnny Edwards and Harold Nixon both scored in the overtime and although Cliff Leach counted once for Ayr the Jarvis defence held to give them the 11—10 win.

The next game at Port Dover is scheduled for next Monday night.
