EVERYBODY WELCOME

Riding President.

Save time... Save money

Buy your fertilizer in polythene bags and store it outside... where you'll use it.

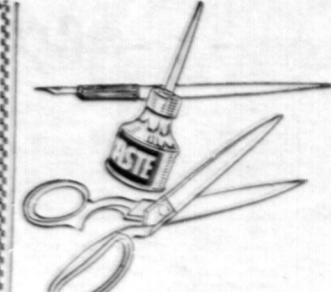

You'll save both time and money when you buy fertilizer in polythene bags. Here's why:

Polythene bags are waterproof—you can truck fertilizer in any weather without tarpaulins. You can store fertilizer outdoors, in fields where you'll use it.

Polythene bags are tough—they don't absorb moisture and weaken. They are easy to handle and stack.

Polythene bags are closed with a heat-seal—there's no lint or string to plug your drill.

Polythene bags are transparent—you can see the fertilizer you are buying without opening the bag.

We want to thank Sam Morris for his gracious invitation to attend the celebrations down in the Lakeside Town when the Port Dover Sailors bring home a Provincial Championship. We'd remind Sam, however, that time is running out for us and we can't wait many more years for it.

We have mentioned in complete detail, however, an celebrating Provincial Championship in Jarvis has become a very commonplace occurrence. Let's see now, is it right or wrong in the last ten years? It makes little difference, the fact remains that this is the home of champions and brother we've got the silverware to prove it.

We'd just remind Sam too that Jarvis concluded a best of five series with a team called the Port Dover Thunderbirds on Monday night by whipping them in three straight games. As we proclaimed before the series started, the Chevies were obviously the better team and we should think that claim has been clearly proved. Perhaps if we look closely in the next issue of the Maple Leaf for the next few weeks Sam shouldn't forget, however, the generosity of the Diefenbaker Government, through the good offices of Evans Knowles, the people's choice in the last two Norfolk elections, in pouring several hundred thousand dollars into the home base of the world's largest small fishing fleet. We doubt it ever Jack's smiling countenance could do more for the long suffering fishermen.

But let's get back to the Jarvis Chevies for a moment. While it was a foregone conclusion they could take the Thunderbirds' methods not withstanding, anyone or any place, we've got to base it to twist, at centre Nixon or the spirit he brought to the series. After taking a 14-stitch slash on the upper lip in the third encounter to knock the winning goal, we got to base it to twist, at centre Nixon or the spirit he brought to the series. Bill Nixon gave the Chevies the offensive stability they needed throughout the final series. Johnny Edwards speed and stickhandling provided many thrilling moments for the fans. Dick Arnett's closed door policy often kept the Chevies out of trouble. Bob Nixon was the Doug Harvey of the squad in every game. Tommy Saunders' slap shots didn't always produce, but often enough. Don Mitchell's savvy and determination made him invaluable to the Champions. Every member of the team was essential in some part and to all go our sincere congratulations. Coach Gordon Miller is recognized by his play-ers as a top mastermind and the results show it. We mustn't forget Jerry Skates sharpened this year but perhaps had more to do with the winning of the championship than any other person we could name. You too Mrs. Nixon.
