On the Farm Front

The threat of atomic radiation, or "fallout" is frightening, because it's invisible, as well as dangerous. But people working with nuclear hazards have one of the best safety records ever achieved. If they can work safely without even seeing the danger, then the rest of us should also be able to work safely, because most of our hazards are quite visible. So, let's make Ontario and Haldimand farms, as safe, as working with an atomic reactor.

One reason they advocate belts is to keep the driver alive until belts is to keep the driver alive until the correct are the ones that you're sure you can make without getting caught. While this sounds like taking unneccessary precaution, it could save a lot of trouble. It is often the careless act that we repeat so many times without getting caught, that finally catches up with us. Familiarity breeds contempt, so lets's not get too familiar with dangerous actions, -oOo

It is now claimed that mastitis can cost the average farmer milking 50 cows an average of $1,000.00 per year and the principal cost is in the loss in milk production. It has long been known that milking machines can cause irritation to the teats and udder if they are not working properly or if they are not operated properly. Such things as inadequate vacuum and lack of proper control of the vacuum, worn pulsators or dirty pulsators all can create conditions for the development of mastitis. The obvious recommendation is to make sure the item, whatever it is, is corrected immediately and the whole equipment brought up to proper stand dards with sure and safe controls. dards with sure and safe controls.

-OOoGreat credit is due Mr. Steele for the work he is doing with these breeders and their herds. In the same way the members of the association are to be congratulated on the results they have been able to obtain. It indicates the type of work that can be done by a group of dairy producers willing to co-operate with their supervisor in following a well planned program of improvement. As indicated in this column on a previous occasion, the Haldimand Association has been able to raise itself from 34th to 11th position in the province.

The Department of Lands and Forests have reported 61 cases of rabies in wild and domestic animals during the month of May. They were found in 24 counties below Lake Nipissing and the Ottawa River. Sixty-two per cent of all cases during this period were in the Lake Huron and Lake Simcoe Forest Regions. In our own Lake Erie District only two cases were reported and these were found in Middlesex and Kent counties and in 5 domestic animals. As far as is known it has not touched Haldimand but breeders and feeders should be on the alert for any signs of the disease. The cause of hog cholera is a filtrable virus spread largely by means of manure and can be carried great distances by man or animals, on shoes or hoofs. Man will not contract the disease. The symptoms vary greatly from animal to animal and helpf to herd. In some cases the animals may die suddenly without show and to the out your wort get in trouble by to.

The Spring Issue of 'Ontario Farm Business' has just come out and it carries the encouraging information that beef cattle prices in 1962 should run about $1.00 or so above the prices for 1961 through the fall months. This issue also carries a review of the hog situation. There is a report on poultry as well as many other interesting and helpful information. Prof. Robertson looks at some of the changes that have taken place is look at the future. If you do not receive a copy pick one up at the Department of Agriculture office or drop a note to your ag. rep.
