ON THE FARM FRONT

Brief Notes for the Busy Farmer

ONT. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE CAYUGA (intended for a previous issue)

How wide are your fence rows? Some fence rows are four feet wide, while others are eight feet wide. But how much brush is left in the fence rows? Cash crop growers have very little need for fence rows within the farm boundaries, whereas livestock farmers have a real need for fields of smaller acreages.

If you have fence rows with large amounts of brush (hawthorns etc.) this is one of the best seasons of the year to start controlling these weeds which are robbing the soil of water, light and nutrients as well as taking up valuable space.

Brush can be controlled by three different treatments. (1) Foliage treatment. (2) Basal Bark or Frilling and (3) Stump Treatment. Foliage Treatment is limited to summer months, below 5 feet high and would be applied in the spring or summer.

The basal bark treatment has an important place in the brush control program, because the equipment is simple and light, and can be done during the winter season. At this time of the year, labour is cheaper and there is access to swampy areas. The basal bark treatment is useful on a wide range of trees and brush with a trunk diameter up to about 6 inches.

The chemical is applied so as to thoroughly cover the basal 12 inches of the trunk and any exposed roots. Chemicals to use include the following: 2,4-D/2,4,5-T ester mixture, 2 lbs. acid/10 gals. of fuel oil. This mixture will cost about $5.60 per ten gallons and the application would cost 2-3c per tree.

For hawthorns, 2,4-D ester at 3 lbs. of acid per 10 gals. of fuel oil will suffice and this cost would be about $3.30 per 10 gallons of mixture. Stump treatments apply where it is more desirable to remove existing brush by hand than to kill by spraying and leave the dead material standing. The stump treatment is particularly useful in preventing vigorous regrowth that is characteristic response of many species after cutting. However, killing the stump is the first step in encouraging it to rot.

Special stump preparations are available from supply stores but 2,4-D ester or 2,4-D/2,4,5-T mixture at 2 lbs. acid in 10 gals. of fuel oil is quite satisfactory. Time spent in removing brush during the fall and winter season can reap good dividends during the growing season.

The Annual Haldimand County 4-H Awards Night will be held on Friday evening, November 30, at the Rural Youth Centre, Kohler, starting at 8:00 P.M. This marks the completion of the 1962 4-H Agricultural and Homemaking Club Year which saw a total of over 400 rural young people participating in a wide variety of projects.

DEBTS WE CANNOT PAY

(Toronto Evening Telegram) No Canadian is free of debt. He may have no payments to make on his car, no mortgage on his home, no money owing to the bank, but he lives with liability.

He owes for lavish expenditure of thought and energy from the first day this country was opened. He owes for love that nourishes homes. He owes for friendship never earned. He owes for schooling available to all. He owes for the great spirits that shine like the sun through an eastern window.

He owes for sunrise and sunset, for snow-capped mountains and the ancient sea, for white birch trees against the green, for the surf on a windy day, for the scented gifts of a fertile land.

The old song was wrong; the best things in life are not free. Somebody paid for them with blood, tears and unswerving devotion to make and keep them ours.
