By "Simon"

AT THE TIME OF DEPARTURE

Simon was in a thoughtful mood as he called to say good-bye to his neighbours. To feel the warmth of the community in which we live, to see men and women giving of themselves for the good of others, these things make a man conscious of the debt he owes to his fellow men. A debt that can only be repaid by the giving of oneself, a repaying of their love and goodwill. It was already time to leave and the parting was brief. As I went down the road, the words of Thomas were still ringing in my ears. What a fortunate man I was, a debtor both to the Greeks and barbarians, the wise and the foolish, for all were God's children and my life had been enriched immeasurably through the lives of those with whom I came in contact.

The Editor, Jarvis Record, Jarvis, Ontario.

I have been asked by "Simon" to express to you his sincere appreciation for the privilege of writing in the columns of your newspaper for the past three years. He also wishes to express his appreciation of the courtesy and friendship with which the staff of the "Record" have always accorded to his requests.

With every good wish and "Simon's" sincere thanks,

I am, yours sincerely,

Ronald J. Warren
