THE WEEK AT OTTAWA

Asked for his comment on Mr. Banks' testimony, Mr. Jodoin said: "It's simple and pure humbug."

NSP CHEQUES

A lot of Canadians write cheques without worrying whether they have enough funds in the bank to cover them. That's the word of T. A. Boyle, deputy general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, who appeared before the royal commission on banking and finance here this week.

Asked if there are many "NSP" (not sufficient funds) cheques turning up at Canadian banks, Mr. Boyle said:

"The volume is colossal." Mr. Boyle agreed that many people write "NSP" cheques and take grants that the bank will honor them. Such people plan to deposit the money later.

A car accident is usually considered an act of fate, for which the driver feels no responsibility, says the Ontario Safety League. But Mrs. J. A. Miller, who has been a victim of such accidents, says she feels that she should get the credit for a personal achievement.
