

We're not taking any orders for Moose meat this year. Don control we're not going to be shooting any bulls this year. We've turned the whole project over to Allan Lundy and Clarence Smith who are roaming the territory between Scotia and Onaping Lakes with two old hunters like this can muster. Our Onaping correspondent advises us that Clarence and Allan were away from the main camp for three days last week before returning for further supplies. In the meantime Don Howard sat patiently in a boat all that time waiting for them to emerge from the bush. Don found that by communing with Nature he can avoid home-sickness.

We were glad to learn that our old hunting buddy Ray Bowyer managed to make his appearance at the Onaping Camp last week and took along with him a new recruit in the person of Connie O'Mahony. Ray told us that if they had been able to stay a few more hours that Connie would have definitely brought home a moose.

The Dave McBride and the Alf Marris and the Roy Craddock are all in the Northland this week. They are going after Moose like the more intrepid hunters who go to Onaping. Rather, they are going to stick to fishing and perhaps line occasionally on partridge. In the meantime all of us left back home can only envy these people who are ravishingly inhaling the wonderful air that only Northern Ontario can produce. Maybe next year.

Although we had to miss our usual hunting trip this year there are advantages in being home we can't overlook. First of these would be the annual Church Suppers that come along at this time of year. It's a great thing for those husbands who never get properly exercised their initiative in getting the Jarvis Club started about sixteen years ago and it was one of the best things that ever happened to this community. Many thousands of dollars have been raised and put to good use in the community since the club was formed. It only serves to illustrate the things that can be accomplished by teamwork. We wish continued success to the Port Dover Club over the next twenty-five years.

It is gratifying to see that the Parent Group in the North Walpole School problem is asking for costs and a report on the advantages of a central school for the area. It had seemed to us for a long time that this information was imperative to a solution. Facts should be able to produce a solution to any problem if reason is brought to bear.

ON THE FARM FRONT
Brief Notes for the Busy Farmer

BY
ONTARIO DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, CAYUGA

To continue to meet the request for leadership training for rural people in farm organizations, plans are underway to hold the 8th Rural Leadership Forum sponsored by the Ontario Rural Leadership Forum Committee, and this event is scheduled to be held at Geneva Court, Orillia, from February 9th - 15th inclusive.

This Forum creates an awareness of social and economic factors affecting rural life and teaches group leadership techniques which will help the rural leader to function more effectively.

Each county in Ontario has the opportunity to send one man and one lady, over 21 years of age, and anyone interested in attending should contact the Agricultural Office in Cayuga or any director of the County Federation of Agriculture, prior to the end of December.

Turnips, the well known popular farm crop, are reaching the market now, and this season when they are at their best. Combining well in salads and soups, this popular vegetable is a valuable and inexpensive source of Vitamin C and ascorbic acid. This health promoting vitamin promotes growth of body cells, aids in healing wounds and protects the body against illness.

Fall fertilization, a relatively new concept in fertilizer management, has many advantages. Practiced on fall-sown grains, hay, pastures and next year's cash crops, this method of fertilizer application has several advantages.

It permits essential plant foods to become incorporated in the soil allowing crops to get off to an early vigorous start in the spring. It saves seedling time, especially when large amounts of fertilizer are being applied per acre. On cash crops such as corn, a small seed, with the remainder of the fertilizer applied the previous autumn, valuable seedling time can be saved with fewer bags to handle.

The amount of fertilizer to apply? Nothing tells the answer better than a soil test and this is the season to have samples of soil taken.

(Intended for a previous issue) 4-H Club members of Haldimand had a busy week at Caledonia Fair with their livestock entries in dairy cattle, beef cattle, sheep and swine, as well as entries in field crops and educational exhibits. Since their participation involved young people from all parts of the county, as well as exhibitors from Welland, Norfolk, Brant and Westwinds counties, we were listing the top awards which were won at Caledonia Fair.

Caledonia exhibited the winners, while Andrew Jude of R.R. 4, Cayuga was the top showman. Winning Ayshire exhibitors were Richard Nichol of Hagersville and Ralph Yule of Caledonia while Richard also won the showmanship for Guernsey and Ayshire exhibitors.

James Smiler, Fisherville, and Glen Bassindale of R.R. 1, Selkirk were the Guernsey Calf Club winners.

In Dual Purpose Showdown, Paul Hedley of Canfield and Joyce Atkinson of Nanticoke were the winning exhibitors while Barry Nelles of Caledonia was the top showman.

In the Baby Beef Class, Doug Hedley of Canfield was the top exhibitor and top showman. Similarly, in the Haldimand Swine Club, Doug was top exhibitor and showman.

Margaret Harvey of Hagersville stood high in the 4-H Sheep Class while Margaret Jude was the top showman.

4-H Out Club winners were Wayne Downie of York, Ross Misener of R. 2 Canfield and Larry Ottensm of R.R. 2 Selkirk.

The top 4-H Corn Club exhibitor was Ron McChung of Caledonia while the champion educational exhibit was put up by the Haldimand 4-H Sheep Club.

The senior livestock classes were keenly contested and exhibitors can be congratulated on the general condition of the animals that were shown. The results of these classes will be published next week.

Careful glances cut accident chances.

The Ontario Federation of Agriculture maintains a field staff of five men who work closely with the rural people of the counties in their territory, particularly in group activities. Mr. Ray Hergott, Director of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, up until now, has been the fieldman for Haldimand and seven neighbouring counties.

Mr. Sidney Kleiman, R.R. 1, since has been appointed as the fieldman for this area now and has commenced work with the Federation, leaving Mr. Hergott free to direct his time to administration and program planning.

Amount and value of forage produced - the two aspects of vital importance to the livestock farm - are both affected by production practices used on the crop.

Fertilization determines what species establish in a stand. High phosphate and high potash levels in the soil tend to support growth of legumes like alfalfa, ladino and trefoil while those which are high in nitrogen favour grasses like timothy, brome and orchard grass.

The composition of the stand can be influenced by the fertility practices used. This results in changes in feeding value since legumes generally contain more protein than grasses.

Late August or early September is the season of the year to apply phosphorus and potash or both to your legume stands, if you want them to be in the best condition to withstand the rigours of the coming winter. Soil test recommendations are reliable guides to fertilizer applications.

Take Safety - like medicine - seriously.

Sheep breeders of the county who are interested in purchasing quality stock, should contact the Zone 3 Sheep Breeders Sale at Paris Fairgrounds on Saturday, October 19th. All approved registered ram lambs, and yearling rams sold as single culls, purchased at the sale are eligible for the premium of 20 per cent of the purchase price up to a maximum of $25.00.

Livestock producers, interested in new equipment for feeding cattle, had an opportunity last week at the L.B. Mehlenbacher farm at Kohler, when the Commercial Beef Producers' Association, in co-operation with the Crop Improvement Association, held a special twilight meeting. Two large silos (24' x 60' and 20' x 60') the feed for the feedlot stock that can hold 500 steers. Automatic silo unloaders move the more feed along two feed bunks, each about 75 feet long. Heated water bowls will protect the water supply in the winter while an oval-shaped sloping area for the cattle.

Economical and practical devices have been installed and anyone considering the installation of new equipment on his farm would be well to look at one, before building.

GET METERS
LETHBRIDGE, ALA. (CP)—Parking meters went into operation here Sept. 3. Until then it was one of the few cities in Canada of its size to look at one, before building.
