Members of the Jarvis and Garnet Women's Institutes enjoyed a bus trip to Guelph on Thursday.

The three boards of the Jarvis and Garnet schools met at the North Walpole Board, Kennerly, Chairman of the North Walpole Board, and the South Walpole Board and Gordon Miller, Chairman of the Jarvis Board.

The problem facing the Boards is whether to combine two or three schools. Then, depending upon a decision in this area, where the school will be located.

At the conclusion of the meeting last week Mr. Fisher would report to the Minister of Education that the three Boards are working together toward a settlement of the problem. It was stated that a matter to be solved by the Trustees and not the Department of Education.

CLARK HEAD
Mrs. Clark has received the head of the late Mrs. Harold Wilkins, transferred to Toronto.

For many, many years it seemed that the first duty for the man was to be seen and not heard in the church; and often it seemed to matter very little whether the men were seen or heard. The men are now being urged to "pay the bills". This is the concept of being radical, which is being changed. The men are being urged to be more knowledgeable and actively concerned in the function of the church. This is the concept of being a man of the church, a man who is not only seen but heard. This is the concept of being a man of the church, a man who is not only seen but heard.

SCHOOL ACCOMMODATION COMPLEXITIES

WE HAVE BEEN TRYING to point out for several weeks the importance of proceeding with educational accommodation locally and in West Haldimand.

This was further emphasized in an editorial appearing in the last edition of the Grand River Sachem. The Sachem wants to retain a High School in that town. This desire is certainly understandable, although we cannot agree with the premise upon which the editorial is based.

The Sachem points out that if the High School is closed there that property values would drop and the Township education would be affected. This is a valid point. We believe on the considerations we have cited, if this is the move that will provide better educational advantages for the students of West Haldimand, then they must remain firm in their convictions.

We have been pleased locally for a long time with partisan considerations dictating our thinking at the elementary level. We must not permit this development at the Secondary level.

It seems to us conceivable to preserve the Caledonia High School by proceeding with the building of a new composite school at Hagersville and retaining the Caledonia School for the present as a purely academic institution. This however, would make it necessary for the Caledonia Elementary Board with a capital program to meet their needs. The suggestion has been that the Caledonia High School could be used for elementary purposes at a cost much below the true value of the asset. This would be of considerable benefit to the taxpayers of Caledonia.

While we can understand and appreciate the desire of the Sachem to retain the Caledonia High School in view of its long and honoured place in providing secondary education over the years - we have to object to the reasoning projected by the editor in justifying his viewpoint.

HEREFORDS LOSE FOURTH STRAIGHT

After winning the first four games of the schedule in fine style the Jarvis Herefords hit the skids and lost the next four straight games, the latest, a 3-2 decision at the hands of the Hope Mounties, here on Saturday night.

The game went scoreless for the first three innings but was broken when Galt drew a base on balls and after a sacrifice by Weatherhead he came riding home when Brian Green touched Johnny Edwards for a base hit. Jarvis got that one back in their half of the inning when Charlie Winger drew a solo home run.

Mt. Hope took a one-run lead again in the seventh inning when Hossack scored from second with a base hit. Galt was forced out at second by French. Weatherhead followed with a sacrifice leaving runners on first and second. Griffith then popped out to the first baseman and set the stage for the comeback.

Weatherhead to centre field, Harold Nixon to score all the way from first base but was thrown out at the plate. Bill Nixon to Harry Reekie to Harold Nixon who put the tag on the runner.

The winners went two ahead in the ninth when Galt scored on a single hit and was followed by Ron Burns, and the winners were out. John Guyatt beat Harold Nixon to score and scored from first base when Bill Nixon dropped a routine fly ball for a three-run error.

Jarvis came within one run of tying the score in the ninth when Galt scored on a single hit and was followed by Ron Burns, and the winners were out. John Guyatt beat Harold Nixon to score and scored from first base when Bill Nixon dropped a routine fly ball for a three-run error.
