cers' Association has asked for a marketing plan which would provide facilities to promote and advertise the sale of eggs, as well as negotiating terms, conditions, and charges of production and marketing of the product.

Winter time is ideal to study the marketing of eggs. In 1963 and make plans for the coming year. Weaknesses in egg production, readily seen at that time, should be restudied during the slack season. Those who keep a day to day record of the farm business, and costs of production, as well as receipts and expenses, can have the time to analyze their business.

The Ontario Farm Account Book, available free of charge from all Agricultural Offices, will be very useful in keeping the essential records.

There are several reasons for keeping farm records. It is an elementary practice of sound business. It provides a record of income and expenses provided one with information for his own protection with respect to income taxes. Thirdly, the most important reason for keeping records is that they are available for an Account Book. This analysis is provided by the Department of Economics, O.A.C. Guelph, working in cooperation with the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Anyone wishing assistance in setting up his account book should contact the Agricultural Office, Cayuga.

Wheat growers in Haldimand, as well as in all parts of the province, are urged to cast a ballot.

The problem? Basically the issue is simple. Ample credit is needed by the Ontario Wheat Producers' Marketing Board, at harvest time, to insure the Board's operation of purchasing surplus wheat as it is offered by wheat dealers.

The solution? A proposal has been adopted by the Wheat Producers' Marketing Board and this proposal will be voted on by the producers of wheat. The Marketing Board is recommending an increase in the levy to be deducted from wheat that is sold. This levy will establish a more adequate stabilization fund. In brief, the proposal is that the deduction be set up to 10 per cent of the negotiated minimum (floor price). At the present minimum price of $1.80 per bushel and at the full 10 per cent this would require a deduction of 18¢ per bushel. One cent of this would still be deducted as income tax credit in the past has served to cover administration costs. The remaining 17¢ would be accumulated as the stabilization fund. This proposal is being discussed and parlayed in the province. The proposed levy increase is being held on Thursday, Feb. 19th, 20th and 21st at the Centre, Kitchener. Explanations will be given at this meeting about the proposed changes and voting will take place at the meeting.
