
The Jarvis Lions Club presented their eleventh annual Minstrel Show last week and the ticket sales exceeded anything in the past. Nearly fifteen hundred people saw the show in the three nights it was presented in the Jarvis Community Hall...The Jarvis Lions Club has a tiger by the tail with the Minstrel Show...Many members of the cast have been in the show for eleven consecutive years...they feel their wicks are burning low and find it hard to understand the appeal the show has to the public Notwithstanding the logic that follows every show...it will go on, we suspect. The 1964 show was given new life...exactly as it was needed...by Bill Straw, a newcomer to the community... let's hope he is here for another one...in fact, many more.

Any comment on the Minstrel Show, without due recognition of the work of the Directors, would be an unforgiveable oversight. Whether it is realized or not a show such as this simply does not fall in place naturally. Many hours of work are involved and this falls largely on the Directors. We like to think that those who are involved in this category are motivated primarily by a desire to bring pleasure to others. The results of those efforts, undoubtedly, will bring them the reward that makes such work worthwhile.

- - - - - -

The thoughts of the people of Ontario have been directed to organized and syndicated crime over a period of years. Commissions have studied the matter. Last year a report stated syndicated crime did not exist although organized crime was flourishing. This year the Ontario Police Commission brought in a stronger report and Attorney -General Fred Cass immediately reacted with Legislation which would give the Commission broad powers to conduct secret investigations and to jail reluctant witnesses, if necessary. With an able assist from the Press there was an immediate public uproar against it on the grounds it was retrogressive legislation and would take away the hard won rights of freedom of the individual won over many centuries. As a result the Hon. Fred Cass has resigned as Attorney-General and the proposed Bill will go to committee for further study.

- - - - - -

Power in the hands of a bureaucrat is always dangerous. Mr. Cass himself described the legislation as the most drastic, dangerous and unusual legislation ever proposed in a free English speaking country. He added: "We feel that unless this drastic action is taken any investigation of crime in the Province would prove as abortive as the two probes into crime...the Roach investigation and the one recently completed by the Ontario Police Commission.

- - - - - -

It follows from these statements that our Law enforcement agencies feel that unless teeth is put into the Law that crime (so distasteful to everyone) will continue unabated. Mr. Cass said: "We feel the rights of a few individuals have to be overridden for the benefit of all society". The Press disagrees and Mr. Cass has resigned as Attorney-General of the Province. As Bruce West says: "We should never forget, however, that in all the current turmoil there are still ugly mobsters in our midst who are chuckling happily at this turn of events. For the beleagured Attorney - General, Frederick M. Cass, this problem still remains, and it should be remembered that in a democracy our elected representatives are entitled to our support as well as our censure."

THIS WEEK

A violent explosion of criticism erupted against the Roberts government in the wake of a special report by the Ontario Police Commission on organized crime in the province.

A measure proposed by Attorney-General Cass for streng thening the commission's powers of investigation brought strgy charges of "police state" tactics and demands for the resignation of the attorney-general.

Mr. Cass brought in his measure on Thursday, as he tabled the 225-page commission report. By Monday the government, ducking brickbats from all directions, was scrambling away from the contentious provisions with all haste.

Target of the drumfire of criticism was the empowering of the commission, in the course of any investigation, to force persons to answer questions under penalty of eight days in jail for each unanswered question. The procedure could continue indefinitely, and there would be no appeal.

Critics harpooned the measure as violating every civil liberties statute fro m the Magna Carta through the law of habeas corpus and Canada's Bill of Rights.

CASS TO RESIGN?

There was speculation that Mr. Cass...who took over the law portfolio at a time when presen Lands and Forests minister Kelso Roberts was under criticism for the way crime was being handled...would lose his job once the furore died down.

But Premier Robarts denied that. Neither the premier nor anyone else was able or willing to say how the measure, obviously calculated to stir up an immediate storm, managed to get through the cabinet and a subsequent Progressive Conservative caucus.

But the premier lost no time saying the legislation would be changed to eliminate the offensive areas. In the legislature Monday, he moved to withdraw the bill from the legislature itself and have it placed before the house's legal committee.

Salt retards the browning of meat and is best added to steaks and chops when they are browned and cooked on one side or after they are ready for the platter. This tip comes from the Foods Department at Macdonald Institute, Guelph.

In the meantime we have had the stimulating experience of seeing Democracy in action.

Why one stop at your Chevrolet dealer's is like having your own private auto show

And if we had room here we could go on and on and list all the engines Chevrolet offers, starting at the Chevy II's 90-horsepower 153 4-cylinder (it's the thriftiest!) and ranging all the way up to the big Chevrolet's extra-cost 425-horsepower 409 V8 (it's the greatest!). We could wax eloquent about the choice of transmissions, and how they team up with those Chevy power plants to produce some of the going-est cars ever. Or the fact that you can have umpteen different exterior and interior color choices — enough, in fact, to allow some of our lady customers to have the sort of fun in buying and choosing that they generally reserve for shoe stores. And all the models with bucket seats and all the models without — all of them comfortable as all get-out. And the hundreds — yes hundreds — of different extra-cost options . . . serious ones like Positraction and gay ones like the new AM-FM radio. But all that's best left to your Chevrolet dealer. The long and short of it is, he'll go to any length to show you exactly the kind and size and price of car you want — and exactly how reasonable that price can be for you to be able to enjoy so much more car.

A hard-to-start car is a potential hazard...if only because the driver will be flustered, and in a hurry, when it does get going. The Ontario Safety League reminds motorists that water in the gas is a frequent cause of starting trouble. Condensation is minimized if the gas tank is kept well filled in cold weather.
