LETTER TO THE EDITOR

WALPOLE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL MINUTES
First: that the March from Selma to Montgomery was frought with dangerous possibilities. How it was managed so peacefully escapes us. Indeed we feared the consequences could easily have resulted in more deaths than the Michigan mother of five children. We would ask will the March hasten federal legislation that is not already in the cards; will it hasten a change of viewpoint of those presently charged with State responsibility?

We do not think so. Indeed the death of even one civil rights supporter might well stoke the emotional fires of the demonstrators to further unnectival and appreciate. The ideal? Who could oppose it? But we have long since learned that idealism alone contributes little to the welfare of society.

Now, if we will be permitted whe will be permitted whe will persue our dismal marrow mindedness a little further have long since learned that idealism alone contributes little to the welfare of society. Roban shared with the University of Toronto students before the U.S.
