REICHELDT BULLS BRING TOP PRICES AT PROVINCIAL SALE

The Jarvis Hereford Farms maintained their reputation as the leading breeder in Canada when two of the six animals offered at the Provincial Bull Sale, at Trafalgar, brought the highest prices at the sale. There were 127 bulls of all breeds, disposed of at the sale.

The Jarvis Hereford Farms has attained the objective that it set out to achieve in 1954, when it started the herd that was to become the leading Hereford breeder in the province.

The founder's son, Glen C. Reicheldt, has been a part of the herd development from the beginning and in recent years has been actively active in the herd management.

In 1954, the herd was founded thirty years ago more than 1500 bulls have been sold for the province.

A couple of years ago the Jarvis Hereford Farms held a disposal sale that attracted buyers from all over Canada.

Other such sale is planned for later this year.

The sale from the Farms brought the highest price ever paid for an animal.

Winning the grand championship at the Royal Winter Fair in 1946 the Jarvis Hereford Farms was the first to win the title of "Champion Hereford" in the province.

The sale that followed the T. Eaton Co. $13 per pound for a total price of $12,103.

This Reicheldt recalled that the bull was thought to be the best of the lot.

He would like to see the bull at least five years to build him up to the standard he wanted. "It has been a good thing."

But what no demonstration was made in another way, it showed that our students are interested in national affairs.

I still think the demonstration is a real and vital interest in public affairs. It is a demonstration of the kind of thing that is needed to build a better world.

But what no demonstration was made in another way, it showed that our students are interested in national affairs.
