As we begin to produce this copy it is shaping up as a pretty tough week. We suppose most people have these experiences. Minstrel Show problems, Lodge duties, judging a public speaking contest, finding time to take part in league bowling (we can't let our coach down), trying to keep on good terms with our wife who is helping to arrange a smorgasbord dinner at the Church on Saturday night and a couple of other things impossible to mention. And they say nothing much goes on in a small town.

It will sure make things much pleasanter for us if that Smorgasbord Dinner is a success. So, if we have any friends we make an appeal to them to contact Betty Howden for tickets between now and Saturday night. We might also remind any of our friends, if we have any, that we can supply them with tickets for the Minstrel Show on March 2, 3 or 4th, if they want them. The show, now in it's 13th season, has appealed to many in the past so we know of no reason why the folks will not want to see it again. It will certainly be as good as it ever was due to the efforts of the producers.

In search of understanding of things we discovered last week that the Booze industry provides the Province of Ontario and the Dominion of Canada (from Ontario alone) revenue amounting to about $275,000,000.00 annually. This brings to mind that next Sunday a speaker will address the congregation of the Church we attend on the evils of drink. We might also observe, as the thought strikes us, that a church is not a very productive setting to bring about changes in the drinking habits of the nation It seems to us it is some thing like watering the garden after a heavy rain.

With further reference to the statistics we read about last week concerning the booze business, we discovered that the distillers get 16c out of every dollar the drinker spends on liquor. The other 84 goes for various taxes and Government profits People will remember our good friend Jim Allan brought in his Ontario Budget last week and among the increases in taxes liquor took another bump. Last year he picked up $123,300.00 in revenue from this source and, obviously, this will be increased next year.

The Temperance forces recommend total abstinence and we can't fault them for this point of view. However, taking this stand, we'd like to believe they would willingly assume the increase in taxes necessary to compensate for the inordinate tax now assumed by the victims of the demon rum. It's hard to imagine the economic disruption that would be created by the sudden loss of this income. Those who take it away, we suspect ,would cry the loudest.

One source of new income might come from action on the part of the Federal Government with respect to the revelations of the Auditor-General of Canada with respect to Government waste. He calculated a net wastesge last year of $22 million dollars. He makes a report similar to this every year and, as far as we are aware, very little is done about it by our $18,000 per year representatives in the Parliament of Canada.

Oh well, we'd better do what we can to make the Smorgasbord and Minstrel Show a success and let the bouze and Government waste problems be attended to by those people who understand them.

And they are there today. Operators, repairmen, engineers . . . all the people who may be needed, whenever you need them.

PARENTAL RESPONSIBILITY

O.P.P. Sgt. Frank Hurlbut, in charge of the Norfolk Detachment at Simcoe, told the Jarvis Lions Club on Monday night that Juvenile delinquency is generally the product of some older person's neglect. He gave a hard hitting address based on parental responsibility toward their children.

Sgt. Hurlbut is a grandson of Hurlbuts story which has long been recognized as top reading material for children. He blamed parents for sowing the basic seeds of irresponsibility in children. This can be done by giving the child everything he wants; laughing at the utterance of bad words; failing to provide spiritual training; presiding them in the presence of others; avoiding use of the word 'wrong'; picking up after him; allowing him to read anything; quarelling in his presence; too much spending money; open parental disrespect for the law and taking sides these children do not necessarily come from poor homes. To illustrate this he cited a report by Ralph McGill, the publisher of the Atlanta Constitution, that the Civil Rights demonstrations in Little Rock and Montgomery in all their sordid aspects were stimulated by mobs, representing 50 to 70 percent of those involved, by college-age men and women. They staged drunken riots and attacked police These mobs, said Mr. McGill, represented parents who had failed to provide any sense of values, of manners, or all that is wrapped up in the broad sense of world morality.

The speaker was introduced by Lion Don Leatherdale and after a question and answer period Lion Bill Snowden expressed the Club's appreciation for his address.

This Week

The Ontario budget increases by more than 20 per cent this year, chiefly in order to allow for increased expenditure on education. Of a total $1,812,900,000 expected to be spent by the government in 1966-67, $595,737,000 goes to the department of education and $102,783,000 to the department of university affairs.

Taxes go up to pay for all this, and what will hit the province's people most strongly is the increase of the sales tax from three to five per cent. Cigarettes and liquor will cost more too, as will gasoline, long distance telephone calls and real estate transactions

The budget expects a deficit of nearly $84,000,000. The interest on the public debt now is $122,835,000.

Other departments spending more than $100,000,000 are: health $249,299,000; highways $107,886,000; and public welfare, $102,666,000.

The increased taxes amount to $195,000,000, whereas the budget is $318,800,000 larger than last year's. The extra load is expected to be about $28, increasing provincial taxes to $225 a head

RAPISTS RECAPTURED

Police recaptured three escaped convicts in a hail of shotgun fire late last week.

John Eaton, 25, of Moose Jaw, Sask., Howard Dankwardt 25, of Kitchener and Thomas Brydges, 21, of Elmira, had earlier broken out of Collins Bay penitentiary, near Kingston, in a stolen truck. While at large they abducted and raped a Toronto housewife and mother.

Eaton had been serving a six-year term for possession of a deadly weapon and Brydges and Dankwardt were serving four years and 30 months, respectively, for car theft. All three now face charges of rape and kidnapping, each of which can bring life imprisonment.

The convicts escaped Wednesday with a fourth man who was soon afterward reapturned in Kingston. The three others drove in a stolen car to the suburbs of Toronto, where they kidnapped a woman and took her to a motel near Barrie, where two of them raped her. She was found bound and gagged after the thugs left.

A Barrie sales manager, Frank Bobyk, had a narrow escape when one of the men flagged down his car and attacked him. Bobyk was able to pinch the man's arm in the power-operated window of his car and drive off.

The trio was spotted late Friday when they asked for help at a farm near Hamilton to pull their car out of a nearby snowbank. Mrs. Ronald McGuire recognized one of the
