The annual Mink Show has been taken place for at least five or ten years. The need for the expansion is now evident.

When the West Hamilton General Hospital was built it was confidently expected it would adequately serve the health needs of the community for a period of, at least, five years and perhaps ten. The fact is the facilities have been strained for the past twelve months, the second year of operation. Even now the sun room and lounge space has been fully utilized and every available bed is occupied.

It is a matter of serious concern to the Board of Directors. Indeed, steps have been taken in consultation with the Ontario Hospital Services Commission, with a view of expanding the facilities. Services were built into the original building to take care of the future expansion of the full third floor, accommodating an additional 44 beds. As stated before it

We always make an annual appeal for real good jokes and occasionally have profited from it. While most of the jokes were so-called friends and our so-called friends send us interesting and funny jokes, some are modified to avoid offensiveness. Therefore, we hope everyone will be able to contribute by e-mail between now and March 1st will be bringing us fresh material that can be incorporated in the 1966 edition of the Jarvis Lions Club Minutiae.

ON THE FARM FRONT
The interior of many livestock buildings are hot and oppressive in the fall and spring months and cold in winter. Proper ventilation can help solve this problem. The amount of air that is required to remove moisture and maintain sufficient fresh air for the livestock varies considerably depending on the temperature and humidity of the air inside and outside the building. A large amount of air is required when the outside temperature is approximately the same as the temperature in the barn. A relatively small volume of air is sufficient to remove the moisture if the outside temperature is low because cold air will absorb more moisture when heated to barn temperature.

THOUGHT: It isn't enough to be busy. What are you busy about?

only electric heating can offer you all these advantages unmatched cleanliness

Electric heating is flameless. There is no combustion to create dirt, dust, film, or soot. Windows, drapes, and walls stay clean longer in electrically heated homes.

unmatched value
Electric heating is maintenance-free; it offers extra living space and can have a significant effect on the re-sale value of your home. Yet, with all its advantages, electric heating costs far less than you may think.

unmatched comfort
Electric heating offers room-by-room or zone temperature control. It is quiet, creates no draughts, no chilly spots—just gentle, even, constant warmth.
