LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Toronto, Canada
April 29, 1966

Dear Sir:

On behalf of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, may I express my sincere thanks and appreciation for any way during their active years. Is this good?

We noticed the other day that George Gathercole, regarded as one of the outstanding economists in Ontario and now Chairman of Ontario Hydro, stated that "if Hydro had stacked the Canada Pension Plan a man earning $5,000 a year would have to contribute 9 per cent of his salary toward his retirement and would receive a combined pension equivalent to 113 percent of his annual salary! Well now, as a purchaser of hydro, we do not want to contribute another 9 per cent to his salary which we, as purchasers of hydro, would be doing on a stacking plan.

Poor old Dennis Braithwaite, TV critic in the G & M., has been outfoxed it with the so-called intellectuals these past few days for his stand on the "This Hour Has Seven Days" dispute. Dennis speaks his mind like a son of the people from which he is, and he doesn't pull any punches. Says Dennis: "When I sit down to write I don't have any pharmacologists in mind, I am not trying to cater to the standards of any little peacenik on University Avenue, or the President of McLaren's Advertising Agency, or Tom Koch, or Tom Wade's agent girl. For whom do I write then? Why, I write for myself. The whole article is an internal dialogue".

Well, said Dennis. If any one hasn't the fortitude and courage to write what he really thinks then he had better shut up. In support of this we'll steal a quote from the pen of George Bernard Shaw written in June 1894. "We cannot get away from the critic's tenderness, his irresistiveness, his sorriness, his friendishness, his sense of enthusiasm (unlike any other), nay, his very politics and religion if they are touched by what he criticises. They are all there hard at work" and this " there is no more dishonest and invaluable affection in criticism than that impersonal, abstract, judicially authoritative air (that is) so easy to assume ".

Evidence now turning up or, perhaps, in the light of reasonable consideration, Premier John Robarts decision not to attack the Canada Pension Plan with existing plans for the Civil Service was a proper course of action. We know, of course, any Civil Servant reading this will know at once that -providing he wants a bigger pension- we don't know what we're talking about. Maybe we don't but as a taxpayer and April 30th is not far enough past not to remember...we have no desire WHATSOEVER to contribute to someone else's pension when they are not in any particular need of it.

There are several groups like teachers have integrated plans which could provide pensions in excess of salaries during their earning years. Normally one would think that such groups of income would decline with advancing years This coupled with the fact that those so qualifying would have no need to exercise thrift in the publicity given by your newspaper to this year's Easter Seal Campaign. We are all most grateful to you

In providing this help you are in reality, joining with us and the Easter Seal Service Clubs in Ontario to ensure that the crippled children in Ontario will continue to receive the finest care and treatment possible.

Our thanks are also sent on behalf of the several thousand campaign volunteers and especially from the more than 16,000 crippled children in Ontario who receive direct help as a result of the Easter Seal contributions

Yours Sincerely,
W. D. Whitaker,
Chairman,
Provincial Easter Seal Committee

ONTARIO MEDICAL SERVICES INSURANCE PLAN

Many Ontario residents receiving the Old Age Pension mistakenly believe they have been enrolled automatically in the Ontario Medical Services Insurance Plan, Health Minister Dr. Matthew B. Dymond said today.

"The only pensioners who have been enrolled automatically have already received their OMSIP registration cards entitling them to OMSIP coverage as from last April 1," he said.

"Those pensioners who have not as yet received registration cards fall into a different category," added the Minister.

"Even though many will be eligible for full OMSIP coverage at no cost to themselves they must still send in an OM SIP application form before May 1 if they are to be entitled to benefits when the second stage of the Plan starts on July 1."

Dr. Dymond said much of the problem stemmed from apparent confusion over the difference between Old Age Assistance and Old Age Security

"Those pensioners in receipt of benefits under the Old Age Assistance Act...these are persons aged 65 and over who have applied to, and received, this pension from the Ontario Department of Public Welfare...have been enrolled automatically," the Minister continued.

"Those Old Age Security pensioners who have previously been provided with medical coverage on application to the Ontario Department of Public Welfare are also automatically covered and have received their OMSIP registration card. "All other persons who receive their old age pensions of $75 a month under the Old Age Security Act (Canada) must send in an application form if they wish to join OMSIP," said the Minister

H.H.S. NOTES

Brian Miller

(intended for a previous issue)

Last Saturday, our school's Badminton Team went to Cayuga to compete in the SOSSA Meet. Hagersville had the honour of being the first team to start and the first team to finish. Our representatives were Bill Meehan (boy's single); John Racher and Barry Miller (boys' doubles); Linda Donaldson (girls' singles); Linda Johnson and Kathy Crooks (girls doubles); Brian Winger and Saturday (mixed doubles).

Only casualty, Bill Meehan who, making a fast return, slipped and tore a large rip in his pants; he won the point, however.

Early last Friday morning, our United Nations Club left Hagersville for Pauline Johnson Collegiate in Brantford to participate, along with nine teen other schools in a U. N. Model Assembly in which students follow actual Assembly procedure. They discussed world problems such as the Vietnam situation and world immigration difficulties Many students spoke to a large assembly for the first time, so the value of such experience is obvious.

On Friday night, students were billeted in Brantford homes, where several of the hosts held parties for the students. On Saturday discussion was renewed for the day. That night they attended a banquet and then went to a dance at Brantford Collegiate. Hagersville stood THIRD among the NINETEEN schools for best representation of countries. All who went enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

Over 225 people attended the three meetings held last week to discuss the Canada Pension Plan and Workmen's Compensation. One question which came up quite frequently in regard to the Pension Plan was—"Can a farmer contribute on more than his earnings to obtain a more adequate pension for himself?" The answer is "No", he can only contribute on his net before personal exemptions. This means that a number of farmers will not receive a very large pension. However, a farmer in the older age group could forego some depreciation and thus raise his net income at least to his personal exemptions so that he would receive a larger pension. Another frequent question was "When does the farmer pay?" If he is self employed, he must pay two-thirds of his contribution by December 31st along with two-thirds of his income tax, and the remainder by April 30th when he files his income tax return. If his contribution is less than $40 00, it may all be paid when he files in April.

EASTER SEAL CAMPAIGN MAKES CAMPING POSSIBLE FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Camping is a way of life for hundreds of crippled children in Ontario—and the annual Easter Seal campaign has made these camping experiences possible.

The Ontario Society for Crippled Children and the service clubs in 231 communities in Ontario that conduct the Easter Seal campaign, have been making one of their special projects the provision of a summer vacation for needy crippled children who, under normal circumstances, would not be able to get away from their homes. There are five specially designed and operated summer camps for these children that accommodate more than 1,200 boys and girls from all over Ontario for a two or three week vacation At camp these children live in a relaxed atmosphere away from the restrictions of the treatment centre or hospital routine. The children don't compete in games and activities necessarily against each other, but rather against their own handicap They find the motivation to do for themselves those things which they had not thought possible. For instance, many children learn to swim for the first time, and, as a matter of fact, every summer some of these children pass their junior and intermediate Red Cross swimming tests.

Perhaps the most important part of their unforgettable days at camp —even more beneficial than the therapeutic value, fresh air and sunshine— is the boost given to their morale.

This summer, when most of us will be planning our trips to the cottage, camping expeditions, travelling or some other wonderful summer vacation there will be many crippled children who will be having an equally good time, because people have contributed to the Easter Seal campaign. This is just one of the ways in which Easter Seal funds help crippled children.

This city lives all over the map

It's a "city" of 148,000 made up of the 37,000 Bell people and their families. And you find them all over Ontario and Quebec — wherever Bell serves you.

Their job, of course, is to run the complex and all-encompassing communications network serving the people and businesses in our territory. But that's only part of what their presence means:

Think of the contribution which their annual payroll of over $200 million makes to our economy.

Think of the contribution these people make to the public and civic services of their communities.

Think of the many other Canadians whose livelihood, directly and indirectly, is linked to that of these Bell people . . .

Bell and its people — a major contribution to the Canadian economy.
