ARMISTICE AND REMEMBRANCE

The Eleventh day of November was celebrated at first as "Armistice Day" because it marked the end of fighting in World War I. When World War II ended the old date was changed, although the war in Germany actually came to an end on the 7th day of May, 1945. The change from "Armistice Day" to "Remembrance Day" came about at this time. I can't recall the exact date, but I do know that it was a result of the collapse of Germany and the Battle of Berlin, read "The Last Days" by Cornelius Ryan. He tells an excellent account of the fall of Berlin. He also tells of the almost comical actions of the Pres- ident Roosevelt and Gen- eral Eisenhower in the last days of the war. It is a sad fact to recall, there is a peculiar significance in the fact that the Armistice was signed on the 11th day of the 11th month of the 11th year of the 20th century. The Armistice was signed at 11:00 A.M. on the 11th day of the 11th month of the 11th year of the 20th century. The Armistice was signed at 11:00 A.M. on the 11th day of the 11th month of the 11th year of the 20th century.
