

THE EDITOR'S COLUMN

It was interesting to note this week amid the current Liberal Leadership activities that the Hon. John George Diefenbaker was able to draw the largest audience of the year when he addressed the Empire Club. Later on in the day he was able to draw 200 students at York University when he addressed a Political Science class which normally has a registration of 50. Although his political career is drawing to a close, Canada owes a great deal of respect to Mr. Diefenbaker who has given his entire life to the service of the country. There were times when his judgment was subject to criticism but he never wavered from those beliefs that he thought were right. The people of this nation should be proud to have had such a man lead their country not only for his self devotion but also for the beliefs that he had for making Canada a stronger nation.

Speaking of politics this is the week that the Liberal Leadership race draws to a close. By Saturday night a new Prime Minister of Canada will have been chosen. Our personal preference would be Mr. Winters, however, it is becoming clear that the final ballot will contain the names of Mr.

Trudeau and Mr. Hellyer. The ultimate choice for Leader is still uncertain and it will be the final week of campaigning with its culmination at the Convention in Ottawa which will determine who will be the new Prime Minister of Canada. We will take the big step and predict Mr. Trudeau as the new Liberal Leader.

It is certain that the Hon. L. B. Pearson will resign as Prime Minister which will make the new Liberal Leader Prime Minister automatically, as soon as the Convention is over. We must say at this time the ultimate choice for Prime Minister should be made by the people of Canada who have the right to elect their own Prime Minister and not be forced to accept a new man who has not been chosen by the electorate at large.

It looks like spring has finally arrived. The warm weather of the past week has brought the crocuses to full bloom and the robins back from their winter nesting grounds. The change in the seasons brings a change to everyone with a new breath of life and a new reason for living. Without the seasons it would be a monotonous world.

In the summer drivers are liable to forget that bridges can be treacherous in cold weather. The Ontario Safety League asks motorists to be a member in the months ahead that a dry pavement can become ice coated when it crosses a bridge.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Natick, Ont. March 21, 1968

The Editor,

Jarvis Record.

Dear Sir:

Your editorial of March 14, 1968 condemning Pierre Burton and his show with the university students was entirely uncalled for.

It was not that many years ago that you graduated, yet the students following you are now "Children" who are to be seen and not heard. I don't think this pompous attitude is appreciated by your readers, at least those born after Victoria's reign.

On first glance it would appear that you are suffering from a superiority complex and delusions of grandeur.

May I suggest that you climb down off your pedestal before you fall off or are pushed.

Yours truly,

Robert J. Welt

The Editor, Jarvis Record, Jarvis, Ontario.

Jarvis, Ontario, March 18, 1968

Dear Sir:

In reply to your request for suggestions on the beautification of our Village, the Jarvis Venture Group would like to make the following suggestions.

Perhaps we would like to see a general clean-up of "all" town properties. This would include painting of business as well as homes and other one or two houses in our Village that appear to be beyond repair and should, in our minds be demolished. We would also like to suggest that Advertising encourages business and industrial growth by helping sell more goods, which require more manufacturing and more employment.

CHURCH NOTES

Plans were made for catering to the annual Bowling banquet of the Lakeshore Couples League in April.

Mrs. Robert Doughty presented a study on Rhododendrons. The meeting closed with the Misses Benediction and lunch and social hour followed.

KNOX PRESBYTERIAN AFTERNOON GROUPS

Knox Presbyterian Women's Afternoon Groups met at the home of Miss Helen Miller on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Alfred Walker opened the Ladies Aid with Scripture reading and prayer. The Secretary reported finances from the St. Patrick's Supper which were more than satisfactory considering the weather.

Mrs. B. A. Miller opened the W. M. S. by reading a "Call to Worship" followed by prayer.

She also read a letter from the former principal of Jarvis Public School who is a Missionary in Northern India. The Rev. Harvey Sider. It was suggested that the "Child ren of the Church" in Jarvis might write to eight year old Cheryl Sider who has now gone into a Boarding School. Her address is Miss Cheryl Sider, Woodstock School, Landour, Mussoorie, U. P., India. Mr. Sider wished to be remembered to his friends in Jarvis.

Mrs. Charles Powell convened the program calling on Mrs. Herman Fess to read the scripture lesson and Mrs. Cora McKenzie to lead in prayer. Mrs. Powell chose Easter hymns and read a poem and an article on Easter. Her topic was the story of Margaret and Earl, Missionary, and in closing she urged all to weed out the noxious weeds which caused dissension in the lives of each life of community dwellers. The dandelion of jealousy being one on which to make an early start.

The President moved a vote of thanks to the hostesses, program convenor, lunch committee and to all who had helped in any way toward a successful meeting.

KNOX AUXILIARY MEET

Mrs. Violet Townsend was hostess for Knox Auxiliary at her home on Tuesday, March 19th.

Mrs. Joan McKenzie, president, opened the meeting with prayer followed by a hymn and a prayer led by the president.

Mrs. Townsend read the minutes of the last meeting and the roll call. Correspondence was read and discussed. The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lillie Miller.

Helen Miller opened the program with a poem entitled "Don't Envy Others", and read a scripture lesson from 1st Philipians, verses 1-10. She also read from the study book "The Korean Christians' story" by Mrs. Taylor-Munro. Mrs. Taylor-Munro spoke on "Bearing One Another's Burden". Closing hymns were 606 followed by the Misses Benediction.

The hostess and committee served refreshments. Mrs. Nicol gave the courtesy remarks.

What gaps exist?

Do the inhabitants of the region participate in the planning process? Are there any planning boards? What "Official Plans" Zoning By-Laws, committees of adjustment are there in the region?

17. Are there any professional planners serving the region, either in the classified public service or in private capacities?

18. To what extent is there a planning attitude toward the development of the region? Is the region fragmented as far as a resources development program is concerned?

19. Does the concept of "planning" enjoy the confidence of the people? How do the specialized workers in the public service view the concept of planning? How are groups such as Tourist Councils, Economic Development Councils, Conservation Authorities, etc. put together for a regional plan?

20. What is the regional plan composite of? Is it an overall statement of development under which smaller operational plans take on their special significance?

21. Who in the final analysis is responsible for proposing and carrying out programs of development?

22. List specific difficult problems now being faced by local, regional and provincial officials that require a larger planning context than that provided by existing organizations?

23. What changes in existing organizations at the local, regional and provincial levels are needed to bring about worthwhile solutions to perplexing problems?

24. What are the financial implications of carrying out worthwhile development programs (plans)? Who pays for what? How are the programs justified on a financial basis?

25. What are the social costs of not carrying out a specific development program?

26. What are the alternatives? What limits of development are there?

27. Can public and private interests be combined in achieving regional development goals?

28. Who speaks for the private sector?

29. Do any patterns of leadership for regional development exist in the region? Who are the leaders? Are these leaders already involved in programs of regional development?

30. What is the provincial level? With what problems are the local leaders dealing? Are these related to the provincial responsibilities?

31. What are the mechanisms for resolving conflicts in complicated regional problems? Who are the referees or umpires? Can the province act as a referee when it is also a player in the game? Is this similar to other cases?
