it is an intercounty Junior League the distance required to travel to see a game is minimal.

The points separating the top four teams is less than six so every game counts and the boys play each game with this in mind. The play is not as sophisticated as the NHL but more excitement is generated by the boys in their desire to win. The regular season is drawing to a close and playoffs will be starting within a matter of two to three weeks. Since Jarvis hasn't a team this year make it a point to see the Corvairs and give them your support as the season draws to a close and cheer them on to a Provincial Championship.

Speaking of hockey, we must say that Roy Edwards while playing for Detroit certainly did not get the support of his teammates as they lost 8 games in a row. We cannot fault Roy for in one period in a game against Montreal he faced 26 shots while his teammates mustered something like 6 shots against the Montreal goal-ender. Roy may be out for a few games but we certainly want to see him back when his team can give him more support.

Los Angeles under the artful coaching of Red Kelly have lost their winning ways of late. I trust that the slump is temporary and that Red will bring them back to take first place in the new Western Division.

A suggestion was made at a strike at GM engine foundries in the United States. A company spokesman said a prolonged strike would mean 3,000 more workers would be laid off in Oshawa by the end of January.

INQUIRE INTO POLLUTION
Four Port Maitland Ontario persons appearing before the Ontario Pollution Inquiry Commission at Cayuga were unable to back up with medical evidence their belief that they are suffering from a variety of ailments because of air pollution caused by two industries.

Dr. F. Graham Mason questioned the credibility of the residents who do together to improve the appearance of the town after the streets are finished. It is obvious now that trees that line the main streets and the planting of one or two trees by each resident would certainly enhance the beauty of the Village within a matter of 10 or 15 years. There are numerous ways to make the town sparkle so let's have some of your ideas.

One of the recent headline stories to appear on CBC's Front Page Challenge deals with police asking for wider powers to enable them to enforce the law more quickly. If their brief had been adopted, we would be living in a police state.

A recent London, Ontario incident is the type that must be guarded against. Three youths were detained for several hours without notification to parents or guardians, after the body of a murdered girl had been found.

The Chief of Police termed the incident an error and apologies were offered to the parents and guardians of the youths.

The law enforcement officer who appeared on "Front Page" stated that the citizens were alarmed about the report, but had nothing to fear.

The London incident occurred days after this program. It would seem that the police in that city didn't wait for the press to become law. If their brief had become law, any police officer could enter a home without a warrant for any reason whatsoever.

We are fortunate the proposals did not become law. — O —
