Spray Strawberries Now To Control Spring Weeds

Late fall is the time to apply treatments to control spring weeds in fruiting strawberry plantings.

Many of these weeds grow from seeds brought in with the wheat straw used for a winter mulch. Others are already present in the soil.

To control spring weeds, Dr. C. L. Ricketson, Horticultural Research Institute of Ontario at the Vineland Station, recommends a spray of the chemical Diphenamid in the late fall just before mulching. He has found that this spray is most effective when applied as close to the time of mulching as possible.

Growers should not wait until spring to control these weeds. "Control then is usually not satisfactory," says Dr. Ricketson.

He explains that the chemicals Dacthal and Tenoran can be used in the spring, but Diphenamid is not registered for this purpose.

Dacthal, however, is effective against germinating weeds only before they come through the ground.

Because many weeds start growing before the mulch is removed, it is usually very difficult to get this spray on early enough.

Tenoran will control small broadleaf weeds, but is not effective against wheat and other grasses.

If growers plan to use Diphenamid, Dr. Ricketson suggests they refer to Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food Publication 75, Guide to Chemical Weed Control.
