To Enlarge Jarvis Community Centre

The Jarvis Lions Club plans to enlarge the Community Centre.

The proposed plans were shown to club members at the club's meeting last week.

Drew Williamson, project chairman, told The Record the hall isn't large enough now to accommodate all the activities that could be held there.

"We intend to enlarge the kitchen facilities, wash rooms, storage and incorporate a new booth for the Lions Club as well as add outside washrooms.

"These will be used in conjunction with activities in the community park such as ball games."

He said the club hopes to get construction started in the near future.

"A starting fund for construction will be spearheaded by funds raised by a turkey raffle to be held Saturday night.

Drivers! Avoid dangerous skid situations ... Always adjust your speed to road, weather and traffic conditions. And remember, the best way to slow or stop on a slippery surface is to pump the brakes.

On The County Beat

Haldimand has taken action to make possible the purchase of an incinerator to serve the whole county.

A resolution was passed to make the incinerator the responsibility of the county.

Townships within the county will not be compelled to join in the garbage disposal program but a plan is being drawn on how the costs will be proportioned for those that do.

The council also okayed the renewal of an option for a site for the garbage disposal unit.

Many Haldimand municipalities face deadline dates at which time they have to stop burning trash at their present dump sites.

Music For Stenographers

By James Mercer

HAGERSVILLE – Light classical music plays a major part in the secondary schools commercial stenography courses here.

Some 100 pupils in grades 10, 11 and 12 have access to $20,000 worth of equipment and are typing their way to music programmed to pace them at 60 to 120 words a minute on the keyboard.

The equipment used, consists of three tape recorders 30 head sets, a record player, a transmitter, a three-channel selector and a 200-foot loop antenna that encircles the room.

Pre-taped instructions or music sets the pace depending on what segment of the course is being studied.

Should one section of a class be just learning the basics, another, the semi-advanced; and the third, the advance stage pupils of the course, all can receive their instructions individually by using a course channel selector.

In the event the students are all at the same level of learning the instructions transmitted are all the same.

Periodically the instructor will interrupt the tape to have the students correct or evaluate their work.

In addition to the typing course instruction is given in shorthand and the Forkner system, which resembles a form of speed writing.

Course teacher, Miss Magdelena Bracer, said those taking the course have shown greater speed and accuracy to date than under the old system.

The school here is one of eight in the province using the newest type of equipment.

Three Wolves Shot In Walpole

A group of hunters Saturday bagged three of four wolves spotted in Haldimand county near the Lake Erie shoreline.

Don Mattice, of R.R. 2 Nanticoke, spotted the four wolves in a field at 7:45 a.m. and within 15 minutes a hunting party was organized.

Armed with rifles, a group which included Blake Hoover, George Fehrman, Phillip Hare and Russell Steel, tracked the animals.

At about 5 p.m. the group gave up the hunt after killing three wolves.

The largest wolf, a male, weighed about 55 pounds.

Ratepayers Save $11,500

A project by students of the Hagersville Secondary School has saved area ratepayers an estimated $11,500.

Technical Director, James Demaline, said the cost of the structure will be some $3,500 and estimated the cost at $15,000 if it had been constructed by a private concern.

The 34' x 24' building was built by part one and two occupational classes and students from grades 11 and 12 farm mechanics.

Students from the Cayuga high school specializing in electrical courses wired the unit.
