The story is that away back there in 1909 a population count was taken in the Village of Jarvis on Fall Fair Day and lo and behold the count was sufficient for Jarvis to seek Municipal Status. And ever since that year Jarvis has eter.

Municipal Status. And ever since that year Jarvis has elected its own municipal Council and has been numbered among the municipalities of the County of Haldimand.

It is doubtful, even yet, if the population of the Village has exceeded the population figure the Assessment Commissioner came up with away back in 1910. There was a surge of new faces in the community during the war years when many Servicemen and their will be will during the war years when many Servicemen and their wives found accommodations in the Village while they were training at No. 1 Bombing and Gunnery School and No. 6 Service Training and Flying School For two decades thereafter.

Both municipalities have spent time and money trying to plan such a development that will be in the best interests of the hospital costs, and are considered to be the nervous systems.

measured in those terms. That is why, when the opportunity presented itself to obtain a water supply for the Village, there were people who were anxious to grasp for that valuable asset. And, attain it they did. Along with the water supply from Lake Erie was even the more progressive move to provide the Village with a sewage system. This was achieved that our Provincial authorities are thinking only in regional terms and it seems inevitable that their decisions will take priority in our future.

Everyone concerned with these matters should stop and carefully analyse all aspects of the matter. The Province is thinking in bigger terms than the local municipalities. This does not necessarily mean they are right and the local planners are wrong. It is, however, a fact that our Provincial authorities are thinking only in regional terms and it seems inevitable that their decisions will take priority in our future.
