"Off Flavour" milk can be due to low levels of vitamin 'E' in Winter Forage

Now CO-OP

Dairy feeds contain vitamin 'E' to help protect your milk quality

Oxidized flavour is one of the oldest problems governing milk quality. Vitamin E is an important natural antioxident in milk and helps to control this problem.

Research has shown that off flavours are more likely to occur during the winter months because milk produced from stored feed contains less Vitamin E than milk produced from fresh summer forage.

You can increase the Vitamin E levels in your grain ration by using CO-OP* DARI-FLO Supplements and balanced rations which now contain Vitamin E. As a dairy farmer who is vitally interested in preserving milk quality, shouldn't you be using CO-OP Feed?

CO-OP Feeds are now better than ever!
