On The Farm Front

On Wednesday, July 16th, Wentworth and Haldimand Counties. We welcome Rob to the Haldimand Extension Team.

Don Presant who has been serving this area takes up a new post in the Belleville area.

Wayne Ettinger, R.R. 8, Dunnville, President of the Haldimand Junior Farmers will be host to the annual Twilight Meeting of that organization on Friday evening, July 11th. All 4-H members especially those who have missed a club meeting have been invited to attend this event which will count as a make-up meeting.

Information received recently indicates a change in the Agricultural Engineering Extension staff of our Branch. We are not sure as to exactly when it will be effective but Robin Daynard who has been serving Wentworth and Waterloo Counties will become the Agricultural Engineer for

The Dean of Agriculture at the University of Guelph recently expressed concern about the shortage of graduates in agriculture. He feels that it is most deplorable that while Arts Graduates are looking for work, Science Graduates especially those in agriculture have up to four openings for every graduate. We would be pleased to discuss the career opportunities in agriculture with any young person who still has a chance to change his mind.

In Haldimand it appears that we are much more reckless with our lives as compared with the last survey 10 years ago. Five fatalities were reported as happening to Haldimand farm people.

Firemen scurry and bystanders look on at the Harris Manufacturing Shop, which was destroyed by fire last Friday morning. Damage was extensive to the building and equipment inside. It is owned by Edward G. Harris of Talbot Street East, Jarvis. (staff photo).

Will Not Pay Taxes

Hagersville's West End residents are withholding municipal taxes until they are provided with water and sewer services.

A petition bearing about 50 signatures was presented to village council last week and will be sent immediately to the Ontario Municipal Board.

The 50 names on the authorizing construction of petition represent about the services and it is still two-thirds of the households awaiting approval from the in the west end.

In March council gave two readings to a bylaw

West End residents hope the petition will give the OMB a greater understanding of the urgency involved.

If they stick to their threat, it will be at least a year before the residents pay any more taxes.

Police Ask For Radar

The Hagersville Police Department has asked Village Council to lease radar equipment for a three-month trial period.

The request came as a result of spreading fears that a rash of speeding incidents on village streets may lead to a traffic fatality.

No decision has been reached, however, as council's Police Committee desires further discussion on alternative methods of ticketing speeders.

Reeve Lyle Furry told council he has heard several complaints of persons using Main Street and Parkview Road as drag strips.

Reeve Furry said "I'm afraid we are going to run into a fatality."

Police Chief Ray Holden argued that radar is the only way to effectively stop the speeders.

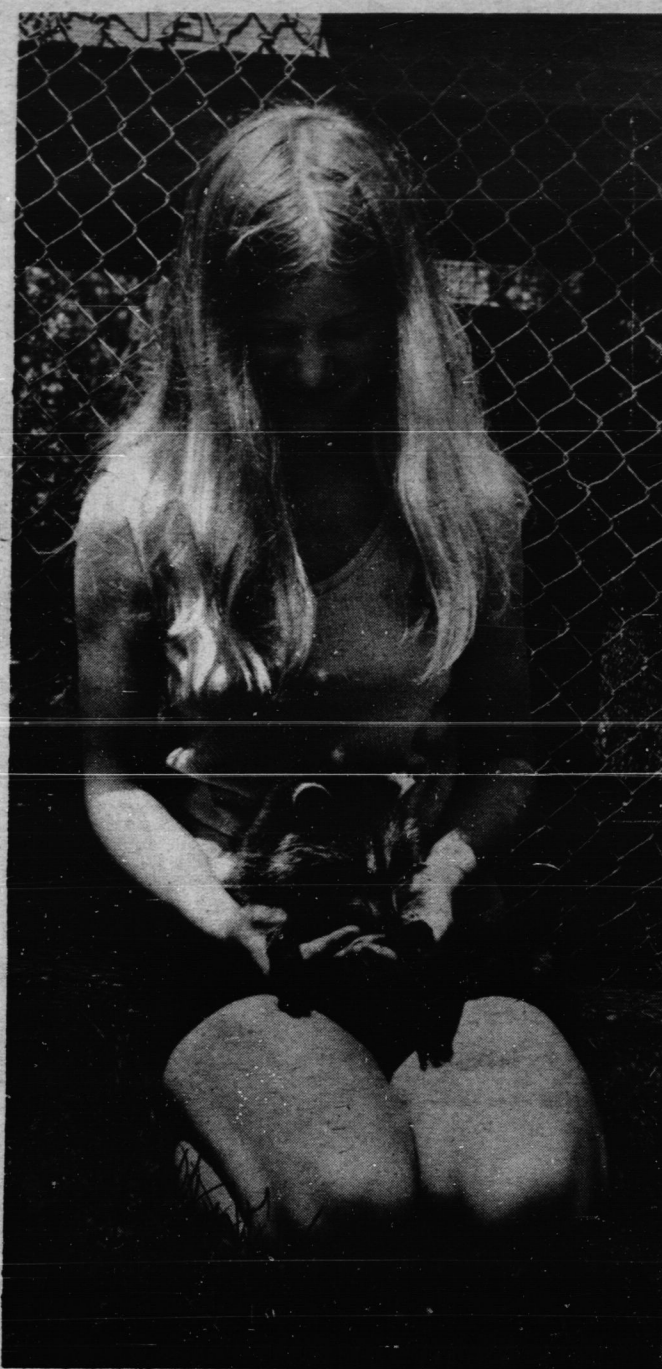

The main opposition to the plan came from councillor Ross Slote who said "I can't see a point in tying up a car and a man there on a radar trap."

He was referring to a petition in April from Greater Hagersville residents, protesting council's proposed method of financing the project.

When the petition was first submitted, council was reluctant to send it to the OMB.

This infuriated the West council he has heard several End residents and they complained of persons using charged council with being too slow.

Finally, after several heated exchanges, council gave in and agreed to send it to the OMB.

A DOG'S WORLD? No way says Charly, a pet raccoon, shown here with his owner, Irene Evans, of Nanticoke. Charly has a softer life than dogs as he prefers to remain in the house, rather than stay outside. Irene has no complaints about Charly whatsoever as he will eat almost anything and is no trouble around the house. (staff photo).

Rabies Still Prevalent

The June 1969 review by the interdepartmental committee on the rabies situation in Ontario was released today by Hon. Matthew Dymond, Minister of Health, Hon. W.A. Stewart, Minister of Agriculture and Food, and Hon. Rene Brunelle, Minister of Lands and Forests.

The committee reminds Ontario residents and visitors of the continuing problem of rabies infection in wild and domestic animals.

Should anyone be bitten or scratched by a wild or domestic animal, contact a physician as soon as possible, and in addition notify the local Medical Officer of Health.

Vaccine and serum are available free of charge through physicians to treat possible rabies infection.

Further information and assistance may be obtained from the Department of Lands and Forests, the Department of Agriculture and Food, or the Department of Health.

Voters Veto Onion Marketing Plan

In an opinion poll recently held, in which 89% of the Ontario onion producers balloted, only 58.5% expressed the opinion that they were in favour of the Ontario Onion Producers' Marketing Plan, as presently constituted.

Acting on the basis of this expression of opinion, which was short of the 66 2/3% usually required, the Farm Products Marketing Board has made the following recommendations to the Honourable Wm. A. Stewart, Minister of Agriculture and Food, which the Minister has accepted:

(1) - The marketing regulations for the Ontario Onion Producers' Marketing Plan be amended so that the authority to direct and control marketing no longer assistance may be obtained applies.

(2) - The present local board or its successors be retained in office in order that it may carry on the necessary functions of the board to collect outstanding accounts in behalf of the producers and wind up all affairs relating to the Marketing of the 1968 crop of onions and distribute the surplus funds to producers.

(3) - The promotional features of the plan as presently constituted be maintained, in order that there may be a recognized body to represent the producers of onions, in the Province of Ontario.

(4) - The amount of licence fee be reduced to not more than 2 cents per 50 lb. bag of onions or its equivalent. Service charges will no longer apply.

(5) - A study of the onion industry be undertaken with special reference to marketing. The terms of reference of such a study should include the following:

(a) The supply and demand relationships for onions in both domestic and export markets.
