College Tours In Early July

Guided tours of field research plots in soils, crops and horticulture will be conducted on July 3, 4 and 5 at the Ridgetown College of Agricultural Technology. Starting each day at 1.30 p.m., tours will leave every 15 minutes until 4.30 p.m., with additional tours from 6.30 to 7.30 p.m. on Thursday and Friday. Each tour will last about 1 1/2 hours.

The special ladies' program will include a tour of the campus and flower gardens. Urban dwellers as well as farmers will find much of interest at the station.

The Ridgetown station has test plots of oats, barley, triticale, corn, soybeans, white beans, lima beans, peas, tomatoes, potatoes, alfalfa, trefoil, and rice.

Experiments are being conducted in new production practices. Corn is being grown on land that has not been plowed since 1961. In a barley test plot, fertilized with up to 100 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre, an anti-lodging compound is being tried out. Deep placement of nitrogen is being observed on soybeans.

Ridgetown is carrying on an intensive herbicide research program. The effectiveness of various chemicals can be seen in the test plots.

Personnel in charge of the test plots will be on hand to answer questions.

Exhibits on farm safety, crop insurance, plot machinery, crop diseases and insects will be on view.

Accommodation for groups is available. Arrangements for group accommodation should be made with Ridgetown College before June 27.

West Haldimand Meeting

More than 75 W.I. members and visitors registered at the Gore United Church recently for the annual meeting.

The theme this year, "Grow, but not old", was well carried out during the entire session.

Mrs. Wm. Lamb welcomed all in attendance and conducted the opening exercises. Mrs. Lamb, Mrs. Bassindale, in-coming Secretary and Mrs. G. Smith out-going Secretary were all honoured by their own local branch with a corsage.

Rev. Arthur Mager led in morning devotion referring to woman's role as portrayed in the bible. He emphasized that a gentle concern for others is the true mark of a real woman, working with others for a common cause.

During the business period, the secretary-treasurers report was given and received. All correspondence was dealt with. Members agreed that programs should be prepared the same as in other years. They were reminded that the International Plowing Match will be held in this area in 1971. All Institutes will be asked to participate. Standing committee reports were read and adopted. These were completely given and well received.

Mrs. A. E. Winger gave a most and informative report on the recent Guelph conference.
