THE JARVIS RECORD, JARVIS, ONTARIO

Sept. 27, 1969. Rev. George T. Simpson of Thorndale officiated, assisted by Mr. Dickson Bailey.

Mr. Robert Doughty and Miss Anne Doughty rendered duets on the organ and piano, and accompanied Mrs. Ernest Welt who sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The 23rd Psalm."

The bride given in marriage by her step-father, Mr. Cameron Thomson, wore a floor-length pebble peau de soie and lace gown with attached train and stand-up collar. Her shoulder-length veil was held with three silk roses and silver leaves. The bride carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Miss Gail Weaver was her sister's maid of honour wearing a floor-length gown of moss green velvet accented with white lace and green velvet ribbon. Her headdress was a green velvet bow, and she carried a basket of bronze, gold, and white mums.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. David Gibson of Caledonia, Miss Gail Ponting of Simcoe, Mrs. James McAlpine of Hamilton, and Miss Marie Weaver. They were gowned in gold and moss green velvet styled as the maid of honour and wore identical headdress and carried similar baskets.

The flower girl, Molly Banfield, wore a floor-length white dress similar to the bride's in design and wearing a headband of yellow and white mums and carrying a basket as the other attendants. Dennis Thomson, ring bearer, escorted her up the aisle.

Mr. Keith Marsland, Hamilton, was best man. Ushers were Mr. Murray Stewart and Mr. Alvin Lofthouse of Sandusky, Mr. David Gibson of Caledonia, and Mr. James McAlpine of Hamilton.

A reception followed in the Naticoke Community Hall and catered to by the Naticoke United Church Women. The bride's mother wearing royal blue velvet dress and matching accessories and a corsage of

Brownies Join The Guide Company
Happy faces were seen at St. Paul's Anglican Parish Hall as some Jarvis Brownies left the Brownie Ring to join the Guide company.

From the Brownie Ring, Dianne Durant, Linda Fleming, Brenda Gifford, Cheryl Marlowe, Onda Rungus, Sandra Smelser and Sandra Walker walked with their magic red shoes up the path to Guideland.

Here they were halted by Guide Dianne Fallis who took each girl and introduced her to Captain Dossar and Lieutenant Reu.

Mrs. Dossar welcomed the girls into the Guide Company. Each new Guide was placed in a patrol.

Before leaving Brownies, Brown Owl, Mrs. Robert Gifford, who was assisted by Mrs. Ivan Church, asked each girl if she was willing to learn even more than she had in the brownie pack.

The girls will be busy now learning some of the basics of guiding. These basics will enable them to be enrolled in the Guide Company.

Baden-Powell's program for scouting and guiding is based on wide-reaching principles. It is suited to the age of each group.

These principles learned in childhood are a great asset in later life.
