by Jessie Miller 587-2569
Mr. and Mrs. George Hazlett, Mrs. Gordon Hazlett and Miss Jean Meehan of Toronto, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnston and Tammy of N. Merrick, Long Island, New York. While there they visited with their aunt, Mrs. William Meehan.
Many older residents of Jarvis were astonished on Saturday afternoon to see an old time hearse being drawn through the village. It was going through from Windsor to Caledonia for the Civic holiday celebration. The writer well remembers such vehicles with plumes on top and drawn by fine black horses as used at funerals in the days of her childhood.

Guest speaker at Wesley United Church on Sunday was Dr. John Charles Wynn of New York, a counsellor at Rochester University, New York. Dr. Wynn has written many books and both he and his wife are specialists in the art of counselling. The Rev. Eric Ramratn met him in Trinidad and he visited the parsonage. He explained his work in our changing time.
Mrs. Lillie Miller in company with her brother and wife Mr. and Mrs. Alva Law and her sister Miss Lottie Law of Port Dover spent a week on a motor trip to the east coast returning home on Friday.
Mrs. Ben Johnson, Miss Myrtle Johnson and Mr.

Wary Walter were among those entertained by Miss Grace Walter at the home of her sister Mrs. Wilbert Bigger at Mount Hope one day last week.
Mrs. R. A. Miller is visiting at the home of her son at Port Stanley

It's beginning to look as if the Houston Astrodome may be the only sports palace of its type for many years to come.
The fabulous success of the Astrodome since its construction in the early 1960s has caused many wheeler-dealers in other major North American cities to promise similar stadiums.
But, nobody has delivered so far. And it looks as if nobody will.

The city of Buffalo, N.Y., recently gave up plans for a domed stadium to house the Buffalo Bills football team and a major league baseball team it hoped to attract.

The reason was simple — money. The projected cost had risen to $70 million, and it might have been much more before the stadium actually was finished.

The Astrodome cost about $45 million to build, but construction costs have zoomed since then, and apparently will continue upwards.

Astute businessmen contemplating construction of domed stadiums are beginning to realize it would be virtually impossible to get their money back. The stadium would have to be filled almost every day of the year with some kind of activity, and even then it would be a touch-and-go financial situation.

Officials of Montreal Expos baseball team and of the city of Montreal must have looked with interest at the Erie County Legislature's decision to drop plans for a Buffalo dome.

The Expos are playing their National League games in little Jarry Park, by far the worst stadium in either major league and also the smallest.

The park was built rapidly as an interim home for the Expos, until a domed stadium could be completed.

But the city of Montreal, which has had its share of financial problems in recent years, is unlikely to proceed with plans for a dome.

The best hope is that a large, comfortable stadium can be built for the 1976 Olympics, and later used to house the Expos. But, the guessing by most authorities now is that the stadium will be uncovered.

New stadiums have been built recently or are being constructed in St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, San Diego and Philadelphia.

All are beautiful, spacious and comfortable. None, however, have a dome. It just wasn't economically feasible.

The Expos should resign themselves to the fact they will be playing outdoors in the years to come.

Their best move might be to appeal to the National League to give them a break in scheduling — possible opening at home late in April and finishing in Jarry Park in mid-September. Games during the first three weeks in April and last two in September would be played on the road.

ELLES CORNERS, ARIO — Chuch Boos wiston, N.Y., two time champion here, set a track record for a 100 ment, when he led flag g to win the "Trenton fier" for Modifieds-man cars on Cayuga Hi-banked Friday Merv Treichler, rn, N.Y. finished in nner-up position, with Jim Rudolph of Ransomville, N.Y. third, North Tonawanda's Jim Hurlbise, of Indianapolis fame fourth, and Ken Meahl of East Amherst, N. Y. fifth.

Boos erased the 100 lap record of Gordon Treichler, set just four weeks ago, of 101.80 mph, when he stopped the clocks at 35 minutes, 47 seconds, and seven tenths, for an amazing speed of 105.13 mph. The race, and the clocks were stopped just once, when Richie Evans of Rome, N.Y., smoked a right rear tire while charging for the third spot, held by Rudolph, lost it in turn No. 3, and went over the retaining rail, landing outside the track. Evans was not hurt, returned to the pit area under his own power, but was unable to continue. The race, and the clocks were restarted, and Boos continued on to his win. Boos now has a guaranteed starting spot in the 200 mile Modified-Sportsman event at Tranton Speedway on Aug. 23, with a total purse of $27,840, and $10,000 going to the winner.

Canadian Jean-Guy Chartrand left the race early with a broken sway-bar, Gordie Treichler had engine problems and never started, and Cam Gagliardi went 4 43 laps in fourth place, before he lost his oil pressure.

In the companion CAN-AM TQ midget 25 lap Main event, defending Champion and current point leader Bruce Bolitsky of Waterloo, Ont., walked off with his second straight victory here, and fourth of the season. Harry Macy was second, Larry Glaser third, George McIntyre fourth, and Lloyd Dempster fifth.

Gagliardi, Boos, and Merv Treichler were the Sportsman heat winners, with Pete Hayes the consolation victor.
Stan Kuwabara of Toronto and Bob Martekl of Rochester, N.Y. were the winners of the TQ midget qualifiers, and Glaser garnered the consi.

CLEAN INVESTMENT VANCOUVER (CP) — Peter Kruschuk of Vancouver has a used street-flushing truck but he doesn't know what he'll do with it. He paid $1,175 for the vehicle at a recent auction of surplus Vancouver City equipment. "I bought it on speculation", he explained.

On The Farm Front

Thursday, August 6, starting at 1:30 p.m., a disease and insect clinic will be held for vegetable growers of the area at the farm of Francis Smith, Inman Road, Dunnville. Growers are invited to bring along samples of plant problems for identification.
Ian Smith, fruit and vegetable extension specialist from Vineland will assist along with Dr. L. A. Patrick, plant pathologist from Vineland and Mr. A. Hikichi, extension entomologist from Simcoe.

Now, more than ever before, farmers, gardeners and others using agricultural chemicals are reading the directions on the container. Directions have always been listed in this way but now suddenly some are coming across startling revelations. Let's make reading the directions a good habit.

Attention all past Junior Farmers! There will be a reunion picnic for all past and present members of the Junior Farmers' Association of Haldimand. Bring your family to Grand Oaks Park, Cayuga, on Sunday afternoon, August 23. Lunch will be "pot luck". Be sure to bring along your swim suits, ball gloves, beach blankets, and your Junior Farmer memories. You may wish to contact some of the old gang in advance to be sure they are planning to attend. It promises to be a fun day!

The Meat Packers Council of Canada suggests that now is the time to plan for warble grub treatment of beef cattle this fall. Systemacs are easy to use, are a low cost treatment and are practically 100 percent effective. Treatment this fall would help reduce the loss of about $455,000 next year that is ordinarily attributed to warble damage.

Congratulations are extended to Fred Topp, R.R.1, Canfield, who in his third year on R.O.P. has the high Holstein herd average production for Haldimand County! Average of 16 records in his herd this past year was 18,890 lbs. milk with a 3.64 percent test for a B.C.A. of 169.5.

Runner up was Bryce Moerschfelder, R.R.2, Fisherville, with a B.C.A. of 161.5. Next high standings were Harold Bradford, R.R.1, Dunnville, 148.5, D.C. VanLeeuwen, R.R.1, Caledonia 144.5, and Ross Nagel and Sons, R.R.2, Fisherville, 137.

The second highest producing Holstein herd in Ontario on Dairy Herd Improvement Associations last year was that of Ern Topp, R.R.1, Canfield, with a B.C.A. of 146, this herd averaged 16,213 lbs. milk and 555 lbs. fat on 19 records. Other high production records for Haldimand herds were reached by Harold French, R.R.1, York, Peter Funke and Sons, R.R.1, Canfield, and E. C. Richardson and Sons, R.R.4, Dunnville.

Roy Hagan, Jarvis, had some excellent crop improvement projects to show those in attendance at the recent Crop Twilight Meeting. Considerable interest was shown in the plots of Pitic Spring Wheat, Brock, Fergus, and Herta barley. Crop Cost study information on the various crops grown was presented.

Speaker for the evening was Dr. Stan Young, Guelph, who is director of the Diploma Course as well as Co-ordinator of Extension work for the Ontario Agricultural College.

Young people of the area who have in mind a future in agriculture are reminded that this is the time of year to enrol in one of the agricultural courses. Two year courses are offered in agriculture at the several Colleges of Agricultural Technology. A Bachelor of Science Course in Agriculture is offered at the University of Guelph.
