the coming of the Tuscaroras in 1715 into the Iroquois League of Peace which includes Mohawks, Oneidas, Onondagas, Cayugas and Senecas.

It was a very thrilling story the Tuscarora Indians presented of their life in what is now called North Carolina. They told how the the Tuscaroras then how the greedy pale faces created Indians that they had to move toward the north and subsequently join the other five nations of Indians.

They wore their colorful native dress for the pageant, the authentic Indian dances
