Texaco Refinery Okay Plant Complete By 1973

Texaco of Canada Limited won its bid to get its property northeast of Nanticoke changed from an agriculture zoning to industrial.

 In the ruling R. M. McGuire Vice-Chairman of the Ontario Municipal Board, stated in a written statement that the "inescapable conclusion must be accepted by the people of Walpole Township that there is a changing area in which old established uses in this particular part of the township must gradually give way to the indefinable pressures which only economists and town planners can adequately explain.
 "It is not impossible to ignore the anticipated development some time in the future of the Steel Company of Canada upon its 7,000 acres located in proximity to the lands in this application.
 "Nor can the location of the hydro generating station, a supplier of power to future industry, be spelled away.
 "At any rate, it would appear the municipality is now in a position to properly plan the growth and development of the area to the end that an acceptable relationship can exist between industry and other uses, and the transition from the old to the new will not bring with it hardships, financial and otherwise, generally where sound planning procedures are not adhered to.
 "The board (OMB) is satisfied that all available modern planning techniques have been employed to protect the rights of existing tax payers.
 "Any fears that roads may be closed in the near future would appear to be groundless, but should the need arise, it is not the decision that can be made unilaterally or without public knowledge.
 "In all the circumstances, and after carefully considering the evidence adduced and the arguments made, it is the opinion of this board that the municipality has properly exercised that function vested in it by the legislature and the application will accordingly be approved", Mr. McGuire's statement said.
 In the meanwhile Texaco has stated it is very pleased with the board's announcement.
 The $75 million refinery at Nanticoke will be in full operation by 1973 a company spokesman said.

Police Radio Interference To Be Studied

HAGERSVILLE - Police are complaining about interference on their base radio station located in the West Haldimand General Hospital.
 Chief Ray Holden read two letters from the hospital to council Monday which stated interference is bothering police communications from outside sources such as Ingersoll and Guelph which have radio messages on the same frequency.
 Chief Holden called a radio manufacturing company and was told that the only way it could be solved was to install a private line at a total cost of $553.
 Council asked Chief Holden to bring a member of the company in to see Page 11 Col. 3.

Weekly Weather

Warm for the next three days is the regional outlook of the Simcoe Weather Bureau.
 Friday temperatures will be in the 80s and the lows in the 60s. On Saturday and Sunday in the mid-70s and the lows in the 50s.
 Rain is expected on Friday and possible Saturday, said the forecaster.

Grain Harvest Old Way Cheaper

Harvesting grain the old fashioned way is still the best and cheapest way.
 This is the consensus of three farmers in a syndicate who still cut their grain with a binder, stook it in the field and thrash it.
 The grain is thrashed by an old time separator and the straw is piled in a stack in the farm yard or mowed in the barn.
 Ted Franklin, just southeast of Jarvis on Highway 6, a member of the syndicate said there were eight farmers involved at first.
 "This has now come down to three as most of the others are now hiring their cutting done by combines.
 "The syndicate is harvesting 110 acres of oats this year and a field of timothy owned by me", he said.
 Two wagons and two teams of horses were used as harvesting was being done at the Franklin farm.
 Mr. Franklin said: "A co-operative agreement and enough help for harvesting between the three farmers still keep it cheaper to harvest this way than combine.
 "Another factor is that we can't get combining done when we want it.
 "It is also nice to keep the old farmer's spirit alive in which all pitch in to help each other", he said.
